Miller and Scores Foes In Resignation

PRESIDENT GIVES UP OFFICE

Retiring Executive Sees Dangers For France Under Present Rulers

MESSAGE CAUSE OF CLASH IN CHAMBER

Deputies Pick Friday 13th at 13th Hour to Name New Chief

(By United Press Leased Wire) PARIS, June 11.—"Tomorrow, in the ranks beside the good citizens of my country, I will take up the struggle for liberty, the Republic and France," Alexander Millerand, twelfth president of France declared today in a message to the country which accompanied his resignation from office.

Millerand resigned under protest. Stormy scenes were enacted in the Chamber of Deputies as a curt note from the President ending his regime was read.

In his message to the country Millerand flayed his political enemies who had driven him from office.

"I expected to collaborate with them in entire loyalty," he said. "My offers met with refusal. They demanded my resignation. This was an unjustifiable pretension, violently opposed to the spirit and letter of the constitution."

Sees Great Danger

The president reaffirmed his conviction that great dangers were involved in such precedent.

"I would have believed myself committing a felony in becoming, even by inertia, an accomplice to a change so full of perils. I have resisted. I have given in only after I have exhausted all legal means in my power," his message read.

The scene in the Chamber of Deputies when Millerand's resignation was read and became effective was one of uproar and confusion equalling the stormiest sessions of the week. Amid cheers, cries of "vive Millerand" and "down with the revolution" from the right and boos and jeers from the left, Paul Painleve read the president's curt note of resignation.

Deputies of the Right and Left then exchanged shouts and insults in a continuous tumult, with Painleve vainly banging on the bell on his desk and shouting for order. When order finally was restored, the chamber adjourned until next Tuesday.

Set "Jinx" Date

It was announced this afternoon that the chamber and the senate will meet at Versailles at 1 p. m. (13 o'clock Continental time) on Friday the thirteenth to elect a new president. It will be the thirteenth president they are electing and Friday will be the thirteenth day of the present legislature, which, incidentally, is the thirteenth legislature.

A number of deputies, afraid of the omens, urged that the elections be held tomorrow or Saturday, but there was not sufficient time to prepare for the election before Friday and the constitution provides a successor to Millerand must be chosen within three days.

CABINET TAKES OFFICE

LONDON, June 11.—The new Japanese cabinet presided over by Premier Kato took its oath of office today and was presented to the prince regent, according to a Central news dispatch from Tokio.

Pair In Marriage Ceremony Are Jailed As Kinship Is Revealed

HAMPTON, N. H., June 11.—Believed to be brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Wilbur Rollins are held in jail here, charged with violating the state marriage laws.

The couple deny being related and declare it is a case of mistaken identity made in an orphanage when they were children.

The charges were brought by Miranda Hanscom Rollins, who claims to be their mother.

Man In Search Of Gas Leak Dies of Fumes

MARTINEZ, Cal., June 11.—Charles Munson, chief engineer of the Union Oil company's tanker Warwick, was overcome by fumes in one of the vessel's tanks early today and died before physicians could revive him.

Munson donned a gas mask and with several assistants went into the tank to search for a leak in a pipe. After he had been down only a minute he felt himself being overcome and rushed to the deck, where he collapsed. He died before medical aid could reach him.

A leaky gas mask is believed to have caused the accident.

Man Kills Daughter, Brutally Beats Wife and Second Child; Ends Own Life.

FORT MORGAN, Colo., June 11.—George Bath, 45, farmer, living six miles from here, crushed the skulls of his wife and two daughters with a crowbar and then hanged himself to a rafter in his barn here today.

Lydia, aged 15, was instantly killed and her sister, Marie, 11, and Mrs. Bath, 38, were brutally beaten by the blows from the insane father and husband, and probably will die.

FLASK TOTERS IMPERILED BY TEXAS LAW

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., June 11.—If the coppers get you here it is better to have a demijohn than a hip-pocket flask. If you're caught with a quart of illicit booze a fine of $25 is what you may expect for a first offense from the federal judge, but if you are totting a quart or less, you're penitentiary bound—unless you're lucky.

Here is how the hip-pocket flask happens to be more troublesome than the demijohn.

Federal Judge Duval West of this district recently ruled that all liquor violations under a quart should be filed for violation of the state liquor law, which provides for a penitentiary sentence, while all violations involving a quart or more of booze should be filed before the United States commissioner. The ruling was caused by the great number of petty liquor violations that were clogging the federal wheels of justice.

Immediately following Judge West's ruling Chief of Police A. O. Van Riper instructed his men to file charges in compliance with Judge West's instructions.

Relative Rank Of General and Admiral Settled

WASHINGTON, June 11.—For a second time the attorney general settled a dispute as to the relative rank of army and navy commanding officers in Hawaii. Because of a shift in personnel since the last ruling the question was referred to Washington, and Attorney General Stone decided that Rear Admiral McDonald outranks Major General Summerall and will take precedence over him in ceremonies incident to the forthcoming visit of a British naval squadron to the islands.

RICH YOUTHS DENY GUILT IN MURDER

Millionaires' Sons Nervous During Arraignment In Death Case

(By United Press Leased Wire) CHICAGO, June 11.—Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, 19-year-old college graduates and sons of millionaires, today pleaded not guilty to charges of kidnapping and murdering Robert Franks, son of another millionaire.

The two young intellectuals who previously "confessed" killing the 14-year-old boy "for the fun and excitement of it" were arraigned in criminal court before Chief Justice John R. Caverly. It was Loeb's nineteenth birthday anniversary.

An overflow crowd, composed largely of youths, jammed the courtroom. There were few women present, due largely to the fact that the courtroom was crowded long before the procession of women spectators started.

Both Nervous

Voices of the throng were hushed when Leopold and Loeb, both plainly nervous, were led down the aisle by court bailiffs. They were seated at the table with Clarence Darrow and Benjamin Bachach, defense attorneys.

"Are Nathan Leopold Jr. and Richard A. Loeb present?" the court clerk asked.

"Yes, sir," Leopold answered.

"Yes," Loeb echoed.

The two youths took their places before the rail and were told of the indictment voted against them by the county grand jury.

"You have been indicted on charges of kidnapping Robert Franks," the clerk said. "Do you plead guilty or not guilty?"

"Not guilty, sir," Leopold said firmly.

Loeb was more hesitant, but finally spoke up:

"Not guilty."

Asks Early Trial

The same questions and answers were repeated regarding the charge of first degree murder.

State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe then asked Judge Caverly to set the date for trial "at the earliest possible moment."

Bachach argued for a delay, stating that the defense needed considerable time to prepare its case. He also pointed to "an excited public opinion," which, he said, should be taken into consideration if a "fair trial" is to be obtained.

Judge Caverly then announced the trial would open on August 4. Possible motions to quash the indictment will be heard on July 21, the court stated.

GIVE PROBATION TO DEATH CAR DRIVER

Charles Ring Jr., 17, accused of involuntary manslaughter, today was granted probation by Judge F. C. Drumm, presiding in juvenile court, who declared, however, that Ring would remain a ward of the court until he had reached the age of 21.

Funeral services were held at 10:30 a. m. for Gustaf Ross, 62, sheet metal worker, who was killed near what is known as Midway City, June 5, when he was run down by an automobile driven by Ring. The Rev. Perry F. Schrock, pastor of the First Congregational church, officiated.

FUNERAL FOR F. L. McCUNE CONDUCTED

High Tribute Is Paid to Victim of Tragedy at Mouth of Bay

Scores of friends and relatives this afternoon bowed their heads in sorrow at the bier of the late Fitzhugh L. McCune of the McCune Furniture company, one of eight Santa Ana persons who perished in the ocean when the speedboat Adieu foundered Sunday morning at the entrance to Orange county harbor.

The impressive funeral services were held at 2 p. m. at the Winbigler Mission funeral home, with the Rev. Perry F. Schrock, pastor of the First Congregational church, officiating.

While the friends of McCune were paying their last respects to his memory, scores of friends of H. Newton Thornton, architect, contemplated attendance at funeral services for him to be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow, at the Smith and Tuthill chapel.

Daughter Arrives

With arrival here this morning of a daughter, Miss Elizabeth Pleitner of Oakland, plans were completed for shipping the body of Frederick H. Pleitner, 66, to St. Louis, Mo., tomorrow. There will be no funeral services here.

Pleitner has a wife and other children residing at St. Louis. It was disclosed by the daughter.

The dead man had been visiting with his daughter in Oakland and came to Southern California three months ago.

The body of Chris Ema, tailor, will be shipped to Grand Rapids, Mich. Arrangements for shipping the body will be completed following arrival of a brother, who now is en route to this city and who is expected to arrive tomorrow.

The sea today continued to grip in its death embrace the bodies of E. H. Granger, Dr. J. G. Kelly, and the two sons of Thornton, Allen, 10, and David, 8. Life guards continued patrolling the beach below the palisades in search of the bodies.

Tribute Paid

The Rev. Mr. Schrock, in his remarks at the McCune funeral, referred to the Sunday catastrophe as one of the greatest tragedies of this vicinity. He paid high tribute to Mr. McCune, as a businessman, husband and father.

The casket was banked with pretty flowers, the display being featured particularly by a number of large floral pieces.

Among them were the following:

Wreath, by the Advertising club; pillow, by Santa Ana lodge No. 794, B. P. O. E.; wreath, Lions club; a large broken wheel, with spokes done in a combination of flowers and the base in pink and white carnations, the contribution of employees of the McCune Furniture company, standing wreath, by the Brown-Collins company, wholesale furniture dealer, Los Angeles; square and compass, by Pasadena lodge, No. 272, F. and A. M.; keystone, by the Royal Arch chapter, El Centro; spray by Santa Ana Silver cord, No. 563, F. and A. M.; sprays, Henderson-Pennock company, and Pacific Southwest bank.

Lodge Members Attend

Members of Silver Cord lodge, wearing white aprons, were present in a body. Mr. McCune was preparing to transfer next month his membership from the Pasadena lodge to Silver Cord.

(By United Press Leased Wire) SAN PEDRO, June 11.—Narrowly escaping death when their airplane crashed into the sea 25 miles offshore from San Diego, Captain Stanford E. Moses, aircraft commander of the Pacific fleet, and Lieut. Commander M. B. McCombs were brought here last night by the mine sweeper Kingfisher.

The two men were flying from San Diego to this port to take part in maneuvers scheduled for today, when their plane, not equipped for water landing, went wrong and descended. They clung to wreckage until the vessel, which witnessed the accident, rushed to the scene, and rescued them.

Members of the county welfare committee and Mrs. O. M. Rademaker, assistant matron at the Hope school, were witnesses at yesterday's hearing, following which an urgent request was sent Gov. Thugs Beat One Man Insensible, Kidnap Another On Busy Street

NEW YORK, June 11.—Twenty-seven packages of diamonds and other precious stones, two packages of foreign watches, one consigned to Tiffany's, the whole valued at $250,000, were stolen today in a daring holdup in which ten men dragged two men off a truck, beat one insensible and kidnapped the other and escaped with the loot.

The holdup occurred in a busy downtown street within a block of a policeman.

The jewelry was being taken from the general postoffice to the appraiser's store, a few blocks distant.

WOMEN CASTING BALLOTS FOR NEW CHIEFS

LOS ANGELES, June 11.—Delegates attending the biennial convention of the general federation of women's clubs turned aside from more pressing matters of state today to talk of the lighter and finer things of life.

With the department of fine arts in charge of the day's programs, the women heard a series of addresses on music, literature and the drama, with notable in the different fields the speakers.

Charles Wakefield Cadman and Carrie Jacobs Bond were only two of many prominent musicians and artists who appeared before the clubwomen during the day.

J. Duncan Spaeth, of Princeton University department of English, will speak on the "art of living" at tonight's session.

With voting booths erected in regular election style, the delegates went to the polls during the day to select officers for the coming biennial. Mrs. J. S. Sherman, of Colorado, and Mrs. Wallace T. Perham, of Montana, are the opposing candidates for president of the federation, with the former apparently the favorite.

Results of the election will be announced at noon tomorrow.

PLAN FUNERAL FOR AUTHOR IN SUICIDE

(By United Press Leased Wire) SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—Funeral services for Peter Clark MacFarlane, famous author who committed suicide here Monday night after being "broken on the wheel" of the soul's effort to express itself, as he phrased it, will be held tomorrow afternoon.

The body of the author lay in the home of Byron McDonald, his brother-in-law, today, and past the casket streamed an unbroken procession from among the hosts of his friends.

Mrs. MacFarlane, his second wife and his four children, two of them still in their teens, assembled at the McDonald home last night.

'Just Married' Party In Grief As Auto Crash Reveals Liquor

Troubles never come singly. At least this is the firm opinion of Mrs. Marlowe Dahlgren, 23, who yesterday was Miss Vivian Hudson; her bridegroom, 21; Miss Grace Brockman, 24; Ted Villines, 22, and Ernest V. Parnland, 23. The young women live in Los Angeles and the three men are stationed on a naval vessel at San Pedro.

Here are the actual occurrences as related by members of the bridal party here today:

Trouble No. 1—While the "just married" party of a few hours was driving the rented automobile containing the happy wedding party, the car collided with another machine in Fullerton.

Rum Causes Surprise

Trouble No. 2—Motorcycle Officer R. Ruddy, while investigating the accident, discovered a bottle of liquor in a doorknob of the "just married" car, to the ascertained surprise of the young folks who declared they did not know the bottle was there when the car was rented in San Pedro.

Trouble No. 3—The entire party was jailed on a charge of illegal possession of intoxicating liquors.

Trouble No. 4—Femland who was the bridegroom's "best man," announced that his

Hoover Denies Desire For V. P. Post

WASHINGTON, June 11. Secretary of Commerce Hoover conferred with President Coolidge today. Asked as he was leaving the White House what his position toward the Vice-Presidency was, Hoover replied that his position was "that he was in no wise a 'candidate' and had not changed an atom."

Asked whether he would accept the nomination if made he replied that it had not been proffered to him.

Hoover discussed with the President the situation in the light house service caused by the failure of the deficiency bill.

LEGION MEN AIDING BOOM FOR HARBOR

Noted World War Veteran Urged for Running Mate of Coolidge By Party Leaders.

MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM CLEVELAND, Ohio, June 11.—Backed by militant American Legion men, a boom for Major General James G. Harbord as running mate for President Coolidge shook the second session of the Republican national convention here today.

Urged in a conference of executive delegates, aided by such administration spokesmen as Secretary of War Weeks and Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt during conferences lasting into early this morning, the Harbord campaign, given added impetus by the Kansas delegation, swung up alongside that of Herbert Hoover for a finish fight that is expected to have all the dramatic qualities of the presidential nomination four years ago.

BET BIG SUMS ON CHANCES OF SMITH

(By United Press Leased Wire) NEW YORK, June 11.—"Lots of money to bet on Al Smith," reported a New York betting commissioner today, "but none in sight in favor of the other Democratic aspirants for the presidential nomination."

One firm has $7,000 to wager at 1 to 1½ that the New York governor will be elected by the Democrats and $4,000 to bet at 1 to 7 that he will be the next president.

The same firm has $5,000 to bet against $12,500 that the next president is a Democrat and is offering 1 to 3½ that William G. McAdoo will not be nominated.

Five thousand dollars is offered to even money that President Coolidge is nominated on the first ballot and $5,000 to $5,000 that he will be the next president.

J. S. Fried and company report the following odds:

Three to one that President Coolidge is nominated on the first ballot and 8 to 5 that he is the next president.

One to 2½ that Al Smith is nominated.

One to 7 that Smith is the next president.

One to 2½ that the next president is a Democrat.

One to 3½ that McAdoo is nominated.

Urges Strict Dry Plank

More firewrecks started when the prohibition plank was reached. Ardent dries on the committee urged on by Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the anti-saloon league, who waited outside the door, made a determined fight for a straight endorsement of the 8th amendment and the Volstead Act, instead of a general declaration for law enforcement.

Senator Gooding of Idaho made a strong appeal for a more comprehensive plank covering farm relief. He insisted that the Republican party, if it hopes for success in November, must hold out the prospect of prompt relief to the agricultural sections.

Decision to recess came after a consultation among the leaders, who had been informed that plans of the resolutions committee to effect an early agreement on the plank prepared during the long night session had gone askew.

Desiring to avoid any trouble at the end of an otherwise thoroughly peaceful meeting, the convention generals decided to keep the platform fight within the confines of

Decker, Gilstrap Seek Poly Prexy Post in Election

James Gilstrap and George Decker are presidential candidates in the coming student body election at the high school here.

In addition to the above nominations, made at this week's assembly, other candidates are: Vice president, Miss Annie Tarver, Herbert Meissinger and Miss Willa Dunn; secretary, Miss Thelma Patton and Miss Margaret Carothers; commissioner of finance, Gordon Harding and Morris Davis; commissioner of forensics, Kenneth Adams and Miss Lorene Porter; commissioner of athletics, Harlan Kittle, Allan McDermott and Arnold Norton; commissioner of publications, Theodore Jesse; boys' self government representative, Charles Gray; girls self government, Miss Evelyn Metzgar and Miss Margaret Carothers.

Another Charge Lodged Against Gas Depot Pair

John Saxon Porter and Lester J. Graham, asserted missing officials and promoters of the Dixie service stations, were made defendants in a new complaint filed with the authorities today by Morris Stevenson.

Stevenson's charge was similar to others that have been brought against Porter and his associates, that of accusing them of obtaining money under false pretenses in the sale of stock.

leave of absence expired at 1 a. m. today while he was behind the bars. The sailor lacks only twenty-eight days of completing nine years navy service he said, and he feared he would be given a dishonorable discharge as a result of this one blot on his otherwise excellent record.

Trouble No. 5—The sailors admitted that they were in embarrassing financial circumstances, yet they were fined $3 each in the prisoners' kangaroo court for rousing "fellow criminals" when lodged in jail late last night.

Trouble No. 6—All through the night and this morning the wedding party was being charged $1.50 an hour for rent of the automobile which they could not return.

But all of these troubles were banished—momentarily, at least—when Under-sheriff Ed. French notified the jailer to release the three sailors and the two young women because neither the arresting officer nor the owner of the automobile which was struck by the visitors would sign a complaint against the wedding party.

It would be difficult to prove ownership of the liquor, it was said, because the car carrying the "just married" sign had been rented. The release order was issued by District Attorney A. P. Nelson, according to French.

The Fullerton police, it was said, made attempts to clear Penland with his officers at San Pedro so that his navy record would not be tarnished by last night's incident.

Pallbearers were members of Silver Cord and the Junior Chamber of Commerce, L. R. Crawford, Stanley Clem, Calvin Gilbert, Carl Mock, Stanley Goode and Dr. C. V. Doty.

Under direction of William Iverson, master, the ritual service of Silver Cord lodge was to be given at the grave.

E. M. Sundquist, one of the five survivors, today was still confined to his bed. According to reports all of the other men escaped ill effects from their experience.

Suffers From Shock
Sundquist, it was stated, is suffering from nervous shock and cold. He swallowed considerable salt water and until this morning had been unable to retain nourishment given him. It was said that he has been unable to sleep at all since Sunday. He is at the home of Charles J. Stewart, 403 East Santa Clara avenue.

According to reports today from Newport Beach, no representative of the federal government had been there to conduct an investigation into the condition of the Adieu at the time it left the wharf on its fateful trip. Rumors were that such an investigation was to be made.

The business enterprises of three of the six men will continue in operation, under managers, it became definitely known today.

George C. Wheeler said that the Granger Electric company would continue operations here and at Ontario. Wheeler is now in charge of the Santa Ana business and M. T. Dacus was managing the store at Ontario.

Assumes Management
S. R. Wyvill, who has been with H. Newton Thornton, architect, for some time, had assumed active management today. Wyvill stated that for the present he would take full charge of the business but that later an associate might be taken into the organization.

Ray E. Couch, who has been acting as superintendent of the McCune Furniture company, was directing that enterprise, with all employees co-operating fully in carrying out plans of the owner.

Decision as to the future of the tailoring business established at 603 North Main street by Chris J. Ema was expected to be made after the arrival here today of a brother from Grand Rapids, Mich.

Mrs. J. G. Kelly, widow of the chiropractor, said that she would not attempt to maintain the office practice of her husband. Dr. J. A. Hatch has taken over the practice, Mrs. Kelly said.

Expects Sisters
Mrs. Kelly was expecting the arrival here today of her sisters, Miss Maurine Perry, who went to Salt Lake City on a visit a week ago, and Mrs. L. J. Mathis, of Price, Utah. The latter will be accompanied by her husband. Miss Leona Kelly, a sister of the deceased, is expected later from Maryville, Mo.

Christ rose from the dead in the power gradually accumulated from the fetters with which the powers of evil tried to chain Him to the earth.

He bestowed His victorious power upon us. It becomes ours more and more as we daily call it into activity in our conflict with sinful tendencies and influences.

"Because I live, ye shall live," He promised; so we know no fear when "death" draws near to us or to those we love.

LAUNCH 'DRESS WELL' DRIVE IN COUNTY

For the purpose of outlining plans for a "Dress Well and Succeed" campaign in Orange county, in accordance with the campaign of a like nature that is being conducted in all parts of the country, Orange county clothiers, furnishers and hatters, from Anaheim, Fullerton, Orange and Santa Ana met this morning at the city hall here and heard an address, outlining plans for the campaign, delivered by William H. Weintraub, sales engineer for the National Clothiers, Furnishers and Hatters' association.

The clothiers assembled again at the Hill & Carden store on Fourth street this afternoon, when definite plans for the campaign were expected to be perfected and at which time, it was stated, Santa Ana is expected to enter into the list of towns in the country to take up the campaign.

According to Weintraub, Long Beach at a meeting last night pledged $4,000 for the campaign in that city, while throughout the country there are eighty cities, with more than 2500 stores, now entered in the campaign, the plan of which is to sell to the public the need of better and more stylish clothes.

"We want to sell to the consumer the results that better clothes will bring him," said Weintraub. "The trouble in the past has been that there was too much selling of buttons and goods, rather than selling the idea of what it will mean to the consumer to appear in stylish clothes. We want to put the idea over in style, just as the automobile industry has done. They have not told how much steel, or how much wood there is in their cars, but have conveyed the idea of the pleasure that could be derived from a car, they have sold the great out-

A New Type of Low Price Car is Ready to be Announced

If you are considering the purchase of an automobile—WAIT!

In seven days a leading local dealer will be offering a new type of motor car—one that represents many months' closely guarded research on the part of a prominent manufacturer.

This will mark one of the great epochs in the development of the automobile.

It will be a six cylinder car of distinguished appearance, comparatively light in weight, yet extraordinarily strong and enduring.

It will be powered by a new type of motor which provides a range of hill and highway performance that is unique in the light of existing design.

Its owners will never be compelled to use an oil can or grease gun on any chassis part.

"One Shot"

This phrase will be on every tongue for months to come. It marks the end of a grimy, greasy, ever-distasteful task that is costly to neglect.

It marks the end of the oil can and the grease gun.

It is the name of an exclusive feature on a car that will make motoring history.

What is it? Next week's advertisement tells all.

It will have as standard equipment—at no extra cost—genuine supersize balloon tires; and as optional equipment, four-wheel brakes of the most advanced design.

It will bear a name now known and respected wherever motor cars run.

It will be manufactured as a unit in a plant that is uncommon in size and uncanceled in the completeness of its equipment.

In view of this, we feel justified in urging all to withhold until next week any definite decision to purchase any motor car—however costly, however inexpensive.

A large advertisement appearing in this publication one week hence will reveal complete details and state where this truly marvelous new car may be seen.

BROADEST ROAD WORK LET ON $76,000 BID

Preliminary steps toward constructing at Buena Park what is believed will be the broadest boulevard in California were being taken today by Steele Finley, Santa Ana contractor, who was awarded the contract by the board of supervisors here late yesterday.

Finley's bid was $76,000, the lowest of three bids submitted for the contract, which calls for widening Orangewood avenue for a distance of 6600 feet, between Buena Park and the county line. The completed boulevard will be eighty-four feet wide, it is said, the present width being eighteen feet.

The more than a mile of pavement thus projected will be five inches thick and of asphalt-concrete construction, according to specifications.

Other bids submitted were Griffith company, $77,000; Los Angeles Paving company, $79,000. The engineer's estimate of cost was $80,000.

Big Naval Guns Blamed as S. A. Feels Wee Jolt

Santa Ana housewives who ran into the streets at 11:30 o'clock today without stopping to wash the flour from their hands need not have been in such a hurry. Although many earthquakes were reported felt, none was seen and information received from Los Angeles was to the effect that the Pacific fleet had caused all the commotion by firing big guns without sending out postcards in advance notifying local residents of the contemplated shooting.

Reports that the shocks were merely the reverberations from the national Republican convention in Cleveland were denied by local Democrats.

The nature of the shocks is such that they are felt more strongly inland than directly along the coast, it was said, and for that reason Santa Ana was in the "favored zone" inasmuch as the target practice took place just opposite Catalina Island.

Seventy vessels of the Pacific fleet, from both San Diego and San Pedro divisions, engaged in the heaviest war maneuvers of the year off San Clemente island.

Fifteen thousand men were in the battle practice, riding the waves aboard nine dreadnaughts and twenty-four destroyers, with twenty fighting and observation planes from San Diego circling above. Seven huge seaplanes were also in use.

Several windows were broken in Santa Monica while others were braced to save them from damage.

Two-Mile Paving Job at Fairview Let for $34,000

Oglesby and Dahl, paving contractors, were today preparing to proceed with paving the two-mile section of Fairview avenue, between the town of Fairview and the avenue's junction with Newport boulevard. The firm was awarded the contract by the board of supervisors here late yesterday, at a figure of $34,160.

The accepted bid was slightly under the engineer's estimate of $36,000 for the work. Four other bids were submitted as follows: Pioneer Transfer company, $34,983.63; Wells & Bressler, $35,000; Basich Brothers, $37,400; H. H. Peterson, $37,900.

$5000 Excavating Bid Wins Contract

Contracts for excavating and refilling trenches to accommodate the proposed pressure system in Orange county water works district No. 2, at Buena Park, were today in the hands of Lawrence Massa, whose bid of $5088.15 was accepted by the board of supervisors here late yesterday. Seven bids, ranging upward to $6264, were opened.

The supervisors took under advisement all bids for the contract of supplying pipe, hydrants and other equipment for the proposed pressure system.

S. A. PLAYERS 'WISE FOOLS' REPEATED

Playing to one of the most enthusiastic audiences that has ever greeted the Community Players, last night's performance of "Three Wise Fools," at the Temple theater, will long be remembered as one of the milestones in the growing popularity of the local organization, according to M. B. Wellington, president of the organization.

"No one who loves the theater and good clean-cut comedy can afford to miss it," Wellington said. "It has been pronounced by those who have seen it as the most wholesome and by far the most charming play that has ever been offered by this ambitious group."

Tonight and tomorrow night's performance will end the season's work of the local players.

Seek Four Men as Bandits Who Robbed Japanese

The police here today were scanning automobile plates for the number of a popular-make touring car being driven with the top down, the occupants of which were said to have held up and attempted to rob two Japanese on the Delhi road south of Santa Ana.

According to the story told local deputies by the hold-up victims, four white men searched their pockets and when they found only a small sum of money and a check book they demanded that the men sign checks for $20 each, which the Japanese refused to do, stating they had only a dollar or two in the bank.

The automobile of the highway-men contained several bottles of liquor, according to the pair, and the bandits seemed to be under the influence of liquor.

Marshal Floors Unruly Prisoner

R. Sotta, 24, was in the county jail here today nursing a scalp wound inflicted when he was said to have attempted to prevent City Marshal L. C. Rogers from arresting him yesterday, according to the police chief. It had been reported that Sotta was loitering about the vicinity of Wellington and Lacy streets, and his actions appeared suspicious, according to persons residing in the district.

When Rogers placed the man under arrest, Sotta jerked away and attempted to fight the marshal. It was said, making it necessary for the officer to use the butt end of his revolver on the man's head before he could be subdued.

Sotta was charged with being a suspicious character.

Hostess Group Plans Attractive Present For Bride-elect

A delightful courtesy extended Miss Margaret Robertson by a group of half a dozen of her friends in honor of her approaching wedding to Orlo H. Householder, was an old-fashioned "quitting bee" held Monday night at the home of Mrs. Frank Thomas, 914 South Main street.

The hostess group made two daintily attractive comforts and had them in the frames all in readiness for knotting when Miss Robertson arrived to spend the evening. Flying fingers completed the two and they were presented to the honor guest for use in the new home so soon to be established.

Following the busy but merry evening, Mrs. Thomas asked her guests into the dining room where the table was gay with varicolored summer flowers and where refreshments were served by Miss Simone Thomas and Mrs. Louise McNamire, a sister of Miss Robertson.

Everyone present was interested in hearing Miss Robertson's plans for the wedding which will be an event of Tuesday, June 17, at the Church of the Messiah, just at the sunset hour.

Enjoying the happy evening were Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. L. D. Mercereau, Mrs. F. L. Gibbs, Mrs. Meredith Finley, Mrs. Tom Smith, Mrs. William Jones, the group who planned the affair, Miss Robertson the honored guest, Miss Thomas and Mrs. McNamire.

Ebell Club

At a special board meeting held Monday at the Ebell clubhouse, many matters of business were discussed with a view to clearing up the details of the year's work at the final general meeting to be held Monday afternoon, June 30. It is expected that the present board will have bills paid and all business matters arranged ready to turn the club affairs over to the incoming officers in as orderly a condition as possible. Incidentally it was suggested that those members who have not yet paid their pledges might send checks for the amount pledged, to Miss Lula Minter that such matters might all be cleared up.

Since so many have expressed a desire to purchase one or more chairs in the auditorium, it is hoped that these will take the opportunity to do so by sending checks for that amount also to Miss Minter. At the May meeting the matter of doubling the initiation fee was proposed and action will be taken on it at the forthcoming meeting. In all probability the result will be to double the fee so those who wish to affiliate themselves with the society at the present fee may do so by sending in their names, initiation fees and half year's dues at once, thus being entered on the books as a member in good standing, before the by-law goes into effect. Members proposed now will be acted upon at the June meeting.

Delphian Circle

Rancho Aliso, the beautiful suburban home of Mrs. Angus J. Crookshank will be the scene of the Delphian circle's first meeting this year as it was last, and Saturday afternoon, June 14, at 2:30 o'clock, members and their friends will assemble for a delightful affair.

Miss Jennie Lasby will speak on Ibsen and his work, dwelling particularly on "Brand," a lesser known but very important play. Appropriate musical selections will be given, Mrs. H. B. Van Dien to sing the "Sunshine Song" and the "Cradle Song" from the Peer Gynt suite.

Three young dance pupils of Miss Holly Lash, the Misses Elizabeth Roehm, Enid Bowles and Marceline Hoppes will interpret a spring dance.

All who were members of the Delphian circle last year, have been asked to enjoy the afternoon and each present member will be entitled to ask a guest so quite a crowd will be entertained. Mrs. C. F. Schmidt, retiring president, will preside over the program featuring Mrs. Samuel Nau, incoming president, will not be present, being in the east at the Democratic national convention with Mr. Nau.

Renewals of membership may be made Saturday afternoon also, as Mrs. J. C. Schmidt, the secretary, will be present. It is hoped that others who found it impossible to continue the work the past year, will find it possible to resume study with the group again for next year. A most interesting program is being arranged and will be explained by Miss Lasby.

Pre-Nuptial Gayeties Are Continued For Miss Coulson

Miss Lottie Sweet, principal of Franklin school, assisted by her mother and sister, Mrs. W. D. Sweet and Miss Alma Sweet, were charming hostesses at one of the most delightful dinner parties of the season at their home, 808 Bush street last Saturday evening.

The occasion was one of a number of happy events that have circled about the approaching marriage of Miss Ireta Coulson, one of the Franklin teachers. Flower decorations and dainty gowns were quite in harmony with a bridal party and Miss Coulson was charming in a costume of opal-green silk with gold and lace trimmings.

The guests were invited to the spacious dining room at 7 o'clock where a beautifully appointed dinner table awaited their admiring eyes. Place cards were especially appropriate, being quaint figures of Dresden design and the miniature bride bore the name "Ireta." Favorites were dainty pink flower baskets containing pink and white confections. The table was centered with flowers of delicate blue, pink and white.

Covers were laid for twelve with Mrs. Sweet at the head of the table and charming the company with her sweet and gracious presence. At the close of the dinner, Miss Sweet proposed the making of a gift for the bride in the form of a book of recipes appropriately illustrated. Each guest was requested to contribute one dessert recipe.

At this time a ring at the door announced the arrival of a little fairy queen, Margaret, the little four-year-old daughter of neighbor friends, Mr. and Mrs. Widney, who has a place all her own in the Sweet household. She captivated all hearts with her winsome grace as she assisted in cutting pictures for the bride's book. When this work of art was completed the company returned to the parlor where music was enjoyed through the kindness of Miss Sweet's cousin, Otis G. Mercer, of Pasadena, who with his wife, were week and guests of the family. Mr. Mercer played the steel guitar most skillfully in Hawaiian manner. The guests were all teachers of Franklin school, Miss Ireta Coulson, honor guest, and the Misses Hazel McFarland, Marguerite Williams, Nancy Laughhead, Sadie McConaughy, Octavia Goldsworthy, Gall Shelton, Frances Peterson, Ann Powell and Evelyn Gall, together with the little group of the home, Miss Lottie Sweet, her mother, Mrs. W. D. Sweet, Miss Alma Sweet and their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Mercer.

Appreciative Guests Enjoy Quaint Charm Of By-Gone Day

When members of the S. O. S. bridge club responded yesterday to the bridge-luncheon invitation of Mrs. Roy Hall, they found the dining-room of the pretty home at 420 South Birch street, transformed into a comfortable farm-house scene all in readiness for "company."

While sixteen guests could never strain such hospitality, it might conceivably strain linen resources of an early day, so the long table was arranged with over-lapping cloths, one a once-brilliant red damask, now toned to a lovely tint by age and repeated launderings, the other a creamy linen with red border. Both were fringed in the fashion favored a number of years ago.

A variety of napkins were carefully rolled and placed in napkin rings which ranged from heavy silver ones, handsomely engraved to the less valuable but equally ornate abalone shell.

But the table was truly lovely. No flowers were used, but in solitary glory in the center was a huge frosted cake—an old-fashioned "layer cake" of chocolate and white—on a tall cake stand flanked by two glass bowls of crimson strawberries liberally dusted with sugar.

Plates were turned upside down over the silver, spoons were in glass spoon-holders, tall silver casters held the condiments, and every variety of jelly, jam and " preserves" found its place on the "grooming board." Mrs. Hall seated at the head of the table, served the delicious meat and vegetable course, plates being carefully filled and passed from hand to hand, the extreme length of the table.

Following the enjoyment of the truly delicious dinner, and the novelty of its setting, the guests devoted the afternoon to bridge, happy to be in the group complete for the first time this year.

Enjoying the happily planned event in which Mrs. Hall was assisted by her sister, Mrs. I. F. Landis, were Mesdames E. E. Keech, John P. Baumgartner, Terry E. Stephenson, Angus J. Crookshank, Clarence Crookshank, C. E. Lamme, Edward M. Nealley, John E. Gowen, J. E. Liebig, Wyckoff Horie, A. M. Gardner, F. A. Slabaugh, William E. Otis, C. A. Vance and J. E. Paul.

At a brief business session held in the interval between dining and bridge, Mrs. Baumgartner was chosen as president for the new year and Mrs. Gardner as secretary-treasurer.

Smart Bridge Series Has Second Event At Briggs Home

Calling together a congenial group of friends for the second charmingly planned bridge party within the week, Mrs. George Briggs and her daughter, Mrs. Howard Timmons, were hostesses Monday afternoon at the Briggs home, 644 North Broadway.

Roses in rich summer bloom, were used in floral decorations of the rooms where half a dozen tables were arranged for cards. Charming little gifts rewarded the makers of special scores, Mrs. I. F. Landis, high; Mrs. Joe Parsons, second, and Mrs. Charles Wheatley, low.

At the tea hour, card tables were arranged with exquisite flowers and centered with gay little clusters of mixed blossoms for the serving of an enjoyable refreshment menu.

Riverside Chosen For Nuptials of Young Couple

Riverside was selected by Miss Margaret Roer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roemer of East Santa Clara avenue, and Tibburn J. Tomlinson of Long Beach, as the scene of their quiet wedding last Thursday, June 6.

Returning to California after three weeks in the north, the young people will reside at Long Beach where Mr. Tomlinson is a surveyor. He is a World War veteran and is highly thought of in his community. FLAG DAY PROGRAM DETAILS LAGUNA BEACH COMPLETED; LOCAL ELKS WILL TAKE PART

LAGUNA BEACH, June 11.—Preparations were complete here today for the observance of Flag day Saturday, according to Norman Robotham, chairman of the publicity committee of the local chamber of commerce. Robotham is in charge of the arrangements. The parade to the grounds will start at 2 o'clock p. m.

The grounds can be reached, he said, by going south on Forest avenue to the coast boulevard, west on the coast boulevard to Laguna cliffs, opposite Tent City.

Holder's boys' band of Long Beach, the Santa Ana Elks lodge, several county American Legion posts, Orange county Boy Scouts, Laguna Beach school children, the Laguna Beach junior Community club, and the Knights of Pythias will have part in the program. L. V. Murphy will act as grand marshal.

Robert L. Brown of Santa Ana will sing "The Americans Come". Parke S. Roper will give the history of the flag. S. M. Reinhaus will give the Elks' tribute to the flag. The Laguna Beach school children will offer "Young America's Message".

Captain N. M. Holderman of Santa Ana will deliver the address of the day. Special stages will run from the Santa Ana stage depot after 11 o'clock a. m. Robotham said.

Bandits Hold Up 30 in Crap Game and Secure $1000

CHICAGO, June 11.—Two dapper young men entered a room in the Store hotel, directly back of detective headquarters, where 30 men were playing craps. They looked on for a few minutes and then drew revolvers and ordered the players to line up against the wall. While one held the victims under subjection the other collected $1000 in cash and all the jewelry in sight.

Among the strange specimens discovered in Brazil are flat fish with a poison spike in their tails, and vultures which make noises like barking dogs.

Unable to Raise Fine, Man Jailed

Because he was unable to pay a fine of $300 when found guilty in City Recorder W. F. Heathman's court of the illegal possession of intoxicating liquor, Jose Salvidu today began serving a 30-day sentence in the county jail here.

J. C. Cole of Garden Grove today paid a fine of $15 for driving his automobile thirty miles an hour across the intersection of Fifth and Artesia streets; A. Peterson of Costa Mesa paid $15 for speeding on South Main street, and J. H. Thayer of Garden Grove was assessed the same amount for speeding.

M. L. Hayes of Hollywood handed the recorder $5 for turning his car completely around in the middle of a downtown block.

J. H. Hay, found guilty of disturbing the peace at a local skating rink, was fined $15.

CONVICTS SHY AT OPEN ROAD LURE

AUBURN, N. Y., June 11.—"Convicts in the oldest prison in use in New York state prefer to stay behind the bars rather than enjoy life in the open as workers in road camps."

That is the strange announcement of State Superintendent of Prisons James Long, who declared that the moral fear of the temptation to escape keeps prisoners at Auburn state prison from accepting the free life of the road instead of the drab monotony inside the walls.

Auburn prison is located in the heart of the Finger lakes region, and the gangs of convict highway builders are stationed at wild spots along the improved roads linking and circling the inland lake. Now that it is about time to commence sending men out to work on the various roads the prison officials are trying to get together a list of men who desire to be outside during the summer months.

One would believe it an easy task to get the men interested, but such is not the case. Chances for a getaway are numerous. In this environment the lure of the lake country to freedom, to independence and to recreation in the zone which was the playground of the Indian is a temptation, indeed.

In virtually all cases where escapes have been effected from road camps the convicts have later been apprehended. Their sentences were then extended. It is the grim fear of this possibility which, the superintendent asserts, is keeping the men in gray from the woods and glens and limpid waters of the Finger lakes.

Russians Still Held by Berlin In Police Raid

BERLIN, June 11.—The German foreign office and the Russian embassy are continuing to bombard each other with notes of protest over incidents accompanying the police raid of the Russian trade commission. However, underground negotiations are under way for a settlement of the dispute.

Foreign Minister Stresemann in response to two angry notes from the Russians, promised to investigate the affair.

Ambassador Krestinski has demanded the release of five arrested members of the trade commission.

The arrested Russians were questioned by the police, but are still held in jail. Meanwhile, commercial relations remain suspended.

SAILORS TAKEN IN GIRL CASE MAY ESCAPE

BREMERTON, Wash., June 11.—Fourteen blue jackets who went on trial here yesterday in connection with the smuggling of a 19 year old girl aboard the U. S. S. Arizona before that ship left New York for San Diego last April, may be free of the charges, due to the inability of the prosecution to produce the "woman in the case."

Attorney Swale of Seattle and Moore of Bremerton were selected by the naval court to represent the gobs after several navy officers had declined. Swale and Moore demanded that the woman be produced at the opening of the trial. The demand brought a sudden halt to proceedings and the naval court still has the matter under advisement.

The girl who gave her name as "Madeline" when discovered and put off the boat at Panama, is not under navy surveillance, it is said. Her last name is not known and the sailors on trial do not seem inclined to tell it.

A baffling situation will result if the naval court decides that "Madeline" must be produced before the trial can proceed. Three of the sailors are charged directly with having secreted the girl aboard the vessel and the other eleven are charged with neglect of duty in failing to report the matter to the commanding officer.

ENGLAND SEEKING CURB FOR TRUSTS

London, June 11.—England has 55 trusts and doesn't know what to do with them.

Sidney Webb, who is president of the board of trade and as such a member of Ramsay MacDonald's labor government, is now drawing up a bill designed to curb alleged profiteering of these huge combinations.

They are all over the place, from shipping to building materials and cotton thread. Some of them, like the wall paper trust, pay wages twice as high as they paid in the "good old days" of cut-throat competition and are, for that reason, firmly entrenched in the affections of the English workman.

But some others are not conspicuous for benevolence. As the Englishman sees it, Theodore Roosevelt was right when he said there were "good trusts" and "bad trusts," the "good trusts" being those who shared with their men and the consuming public the benefits of co-operative production and marketing, while the "bad trusts" shared "nothing with nobody."

That regulation is a pet subject of Webb's and the board of trade has been working on the question for some time. Several experts have made a close study of the workings of the "Sherman anti-trust act" and there is a good deal of curiosity to see whether the British government will borrow anything from American experience.

Meanwhile Webb's plans are a closely kept secret.

MOTHER OF 5 FREE IN BOOTLEG CASE

SACRAMENTO, June 11.—With five children all under 10 years of age dependent upon her and deserted by her husband, Mrs. Sarah Jane Rogers of Roseville obtained judicial clemency from Judge M. T. Dooling in the federal court after admitting that she was "caught with the goods" in violation of the national prohibition act.

Prohibition Officer W. W. Greer, who made the arrest, said he went to the woman's house in search of her husband and arrested her because the evidence of law violation confronted him.

Mrs. Rogers admitted the charge, but told the judge that her husband deserted her six months ago and that she continued the manufacture of illegal liquor because in no other manner could she provide her children with food and clothing.

Judge Dooling in ordering her release made it unconditional. He also withheld admonition for violation of the law.

STEAMER'S GHOST BLOCKS ENGINEERS

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—Ghosts of marine tragedies of a quarter of a century ago have blocked the path of United States dredging engineers engaged in deepening and widening the channel that leads from the Pacific through the Golden Gate to San Francisco harbor.

A derelict hulk, believed to be that of the old Pacific Mail steamer Rio de Janeiro, which went down on February 22, 1901, with all hands on board, has baffled the dredgers.

Diving crews this week are endeavoring to ascertain a method to move or raise the wreck-age so work can proceed in the channel.

President Signs Sawtelle Measure

BITTER ROW OVER G. O. P. PLATFORM

out. So, the business of the convention today was simply routine—the approval of the reports of the other committees, most important among which, perhaps, was the decision to give women a fifty-fifty representation with the men on the national committee. But while the rumblings of trouble were emanating from the resolutions committee quarters, there were evidences of another fight de-

SCHOOL BOARD REFUSES ITS APPROVAL OF $8000 EXPERT TO SUPERINTEND BUILDINGS

A plan launched by Dr. Roy S. Horton, a member, at the bi-monthly meeting of the Santa Ana board of education held late yesterday, calling for the appointment of a committee to investigate the advisability of employing a superintendent of buildings, who, he said, could be secured for approximately $8000 a year, was defeated by the board, by a three-to-two vote, after a heated argument in which all members took part.

Dr. Horton said a superintendent of buildings would save double the amount of his salary, by advising the board on the up-keep of buildings, and by the drawing of plans for new and for additions to old buildings.

"Show me an enterprise of even $50,000 where an expert is not hired to advise the board of directors," he declared. "We have $3,000,000 worth of buildings under our care, and you can't tell me that we are efficient enough to look after them without expert advice."

Dr. Horton was chiefly opposed by F. L. Andrews, secretary of the board, who stated that all of the buildings were in good shape and that he could see no reason for the expenditure.

Approve School Plans
Charles F. Smith stated that he was solidly against the plan on account of the expenditure involved. When the question was put before the board, Horton and Marshall Keeler voted for it, and Andrews and Smith against it, leaving the decision up to Alex Brown, president, who immediately sided with the opposition.

Plans for the new Roosevelt school on East First street were officially approved by the board and the secretary was authorized to advertise for bids to be opened June 25. The plans call for the erection of a one-story brick building at the site of the present Roosevelt school, at an estimated expenditure of $80,000. Work on the building would be rushed in an effort to have the building as nearly finished as possible by the opening of the schools in September.

Other improvements authorized by the board were:

The painting of the Artesia school building, at Artesia and Hickey streets, and enlargement of kindergarten of the Jefferson school.

Appoint Teachers
Following a request made by members of the Parent-Teacher association of the John Muir school for an additional teacher at the building next year in order that the principal, Mrs. Marie H. Siebert, could devote all of her time to her official duties, and on suggestion given by J. A. Cranston, superintendent, the board authorized the employing of two additional teachers to work part time at four city schools. A lack of funds was given as the reason for not being able to place a teacher full time at the John Muir school.

The board, without discussion, unanimously passed a motion in which its approval was given Cranston in calling mass meetings here recently to discuss reports of immoral conduct on the part of a small group of students.

Following is the list of new teachers that were elected yesterday, in addition to others that were appointed several days ago:

High school—H. O. Russell, physics and junior college athletics; M. L. Pearson, commercial; George Duncan, manual arts department executive, to teach mechanical drawing. Julia Lathrop junior high school, Helen Walker, general science and social studies, elementary; Elizabeth Walker, Leta Blythe and Waive Kingrey; school nurse, Margaret Kuehl; supervisor of attendance, Leroy Warren; parental school, L. Monroe Sharpless.

Miss Elizabeth Phillips, secretary to the board of education, and Miss Doris Bowen, clerk, both were re-elected.

Leave of absence was granted Cranston to attend the National Education association's annual convention at Washington, D. C., from June 29 to July 5, with railroad expenses paid.

The board went on record as approving the citizens' rating plan, which has been practiced in the schools this year, giving merits and demerits to pupils, and officially installed the system permanently in Santa Ana schools at the suggestion of D. K. Hammond, principal of the high school, who stated that it had been a success in its one year trial.

veloping over the vice presidential nominee.

Delegates of thirteen wheat growing states, exclusive of Wisconsin, have decided to band together, if possible, and insist upon nomination of a Middle Western man for vice president. These delegates claim they failed to get what they wanted from the resolutions committee and if they are to go back home and expect to carry those wheat states against La Follette and the Democrats they must have a representative on the ticket who will appeal to the farm vote.

Curtis in Running
Senator Curtis, Republican whip of the senate and a favorite son of Kansas, was being urged as a good compromise candidate for President Coolidge's running mate.

The delegates of the thirteen states, after a brief meeting this morning, agreed to meet again at 3 o'clock this afternoon, when the first canvass will be taken to determine whether there is a likelihood of them agreeing on one man from among their midst who will satisfy all.

Because of the threatened clash over the world court plan, it was with a sense of keen expectation that the delegates came to order at the fall of the gavel shortly after 11 o'clock.

The temporary chairman, Theodore Burton, his voice suffering from the effects of his long keynote address yesterday, called for the singing of the Star Spangled Banner, then introduced Rabbi Samuel Schuman of Bethel Temple of New York City to deliver the invocation, and the second day's business was under way.

Honor "Uncle Joe"
Representative Graham, Pennsylvania, was introduced and presented a resolution of tribute for dispatch to "Uncle Joe" Cannon on the attainment of his 88th birthday anniversary.

The resolution passed amidst loud applause. This was the first convention "Uncle Joe" has missed in many years.

Mrs. Elizabeth Martin of Pennsylvania then presented Frank W. Mondell for election as permanent chairman of the convention. The selected was voted with applause.

Mondell then took the platform. Scattering applause greeted Mondell's appearance, but when Burton yielded him the gavel the applause turned to shouts and cheers.

As in the case of Theodore Burton's demand yesterday for a Republican congress that would "stand united," the convention rose in a loud demonstration when Mondell called for a congress of "Republicans in fact as well as in name."

Takes Rap at Lodge
"Let us not criticize a man for note leading," he said, "when there are men who call themselves Republicans but who will not follow."

Senator Lodge, seated in the front row of the Massachusetts delegation, immediately in front of the rostrum, appeared unaffected by the continued reference of speakers to failure of Republicans in congress to follow the leadership of the president. He smiled broadly at the shafts directed at Republicans who overrode the president's wishes on the bonus and other legislation and joined in the applause by pounding on the floor in front of him with his umbrella.

Here is a paraphrase of the platform provisions as given to the United Press by an indisputable authority:

ECONOMY—A statement pointing to the accomplishments of the present administration with particular reference to reducing the number of government employees and conserving expenditures.

AGRICULTURE—A promise by the Republican party to restore the balance of economic conditions as between agriculture and industry. No reference is made to the McNary-Haugen price stabilization measure, which was killed in congress under Mr. Coolidge's pressure. An enforcement of the emergency tariff act as being of assistance both to farmers and to industry.

WORLD COURT—A re-statement of the Republican position against American entrance or adherence to the League of Nations. An expression that this government should enter some sort of international court of justice, with an added statement expressing belief in the Harding-Coolidge plan with the Hughes reservations.

SECRET ORGANIZATIONS—A plank declaring that the guarantee of religious and political freedom as assured under the constitution must be protected. A plank specifically denouncing the Ku Klux Klan was voted down.

IMMIGRATION—Praise of the new restrictive immigration bill with no mention of the recent international complications resulting from the Japanese exclusion provision of the bill.

SCANDALS—Condemnation of misfeasance and malfeasance in office with a specific reference to the senate investigations.

TAXATION—Belief is expressed that reduction of taxation should be based upon some plan more scientific than the new law. A call for reform in methods of taxation. A declaration favoring the proposal for organization of a tax revision commission to work out with the state governments some means for avoiding overlapping taxation.

VETERANS' BUREAU—A demand that every possible care be afforded disabled veterans.

PROHIBITION—Pledges general law enforcement.

LAW AND ORDER—A plea for orderly government.

PARTY LOYALTY—A declaration urging party regularity and harmony.

LEASE BUILDING AT BUSH, 5TH FOR BUSESSES

The Pickwick Stage company has completed negotiations for taking a lease on the McFadden building at the southwest corner of Bush and Fifth streets, and on September 1 will transfer its operating headquarters from the Crown stage station at 515 North Main street to that location, B. D. Tompkins, Santa Ana manager, disclosed today.

A. B. Watson, owner of the Crown stage lines, announced at the same time that he would operate his busses from the new location.

Of further interest to the public was the statement made by Watson that he had purchased from J. C. Best and son, Ralph, the stage lines operating to Laguna Beach and Orange County park.

The transfer of ownership will be made as soon as permission is given by the railroad commission to which body application has been made.

Best and son will continue operation of their lines until official approval is given the sale. Coincidentally with the announcement of the sale Best declared that beginning Sunday five round trips would be made daily to Laguna Beach. The present schedule is three round trips. According to the new schedule, the stages will leave Santa Ana at 6:35 a. m., 9:15 a. m., 11:10 a. m., 2:15 p. m. and 5:10 p. m. The county park line operates only in July and August.

Pickwick's lease on its new location will become effective August 1, Tompkins said, adding that contemplated alterations in the building probably would require approximately one month. Definite plans for the changes to be made he said had not been developed.

Watson will continue to operate his repair shop in the building immediately a tie rear of the Main street station and for the present the Pickwick will have use of the shops. Later, it is expected, the latter concern will establish its own repair shop.

The Crown stage company has secured a new depot at Long Beach the location being at 24 Locust avenue. Operation from the new depot started this week. According to Watson, the company expended $5000 in making alterations to adapt the building to the purposes of the stage line.

S. A. Man To Tour With U. S. C. Club

Cecil J. Birtcher, Santa Ana high school graduate, has been chosen for the second time to make the tour of the United States with the men's glee club from the University of Southern California, it became known here today. The tour this year will take three months to complete and will extend as far east as New York.

Birtcher, a sophomore at U.S.C., is assistant manager of the glee club and a saxophone soloist. The choice of those who will make the trip was based on a series of examinations and those having the highest average were the ones chosen to make the trip. The club will leave Los Angeles Thursday.

Why they're DEMANDING

Zerolene "F" for Fords, which the lubricating engineers of this Company developed after six years of research and experiment, was put on the market considerably less than a year ago.

Leads in Sales

Yet today the Mission Tire and Oil Company of Ventura, Calif., writes:

"We find that there is greater demand for Zerolene 'F' for Fords than practically any other lubricating oil on the market. One reason, we believe, is the fact that it gives increased gasoline mileage and reduces operating cost, also eliminates hard starting in the mornings."

Lubricates Better—Costs Less

There are other reasons too—among them the fact that because Zerolene "F" for Fords "feeds those oil-starved bearings"—reaches every point in a Ford where oil is needed—upkeep costs are noticeably reduced, and the working life of the car is longer.

Yet Zerolene "F" for Fords costs not more but less than other special Ford oils on the market.

A Ford is an A-1 transportation investment. Protect your investment by proper lubrication.

Brings Good Results

The appearance of Orange county walnut groves is a hundred per cent better today than it was two weeks ago.

H. E. Wahlberg, farm advisor, and J. A. Small, president of the Orange county farm bureau, are authority for this statement.

The production of walnuts this year will be much better than was at first anticipated in the opinion of these executives.

"I was away for a week recently and I could certainly see a difference in the groves here when I returned," stated Smiley. "Things are looking much better in my grove."

Slow starts were made by the groves this year because of desert winds of last fall and of the lateness of the rains this season, in the opinion of Wahlberg, who added that he had noticed much improvement in all groves during the past ten days.

"The trees this year are unusually clean, too," he continued. Very little aphis on the trees had been reported to him. I understand that there is a heavy amount of aphis in the Puente district, but a campaign in this county against it has brought favorable results."

CENTERS TO SEE

The farm centers at La Habra, Yorba Linda and El Modena have been asked to meet in special sessions the latter part of the week for the purpose of attending soil moisture demonstrations to be made by specialists from the University of California, according to an announcement made this morning from the offices of the Orange County Farm Bureau.

The La Habra meeting has been called for Friday at 2 p. m., at the Charles Thompson place; the El Modena meeting at 10 a. m. Saturday, at the ranch of Henry Campbell, and the Yorba Linda meeting at 2 p. m. Saturday, at the office of the Yorba Linda Water company. W. B. Schoonover, citrus specialist and J. B. Brown, irrigation specialist, both of the University, will have charge of the demonstrations. Trenches will be dug at the various places to determine the amount of moisture in the soil.

BUREAU NOTES

Grain men have been busy during the past week getting their crops in shape for the harvesting season, which will begin the latter part of the month.

Grain test plots developed by Farm Advisor H. E. Wahlberg with the assistance of Aaron Buchheim at San Juan Capistrano have proved very satisfactory, according to Wahlberg, who stated that the grain had been harvested and sent to the University of California farm for threshing and cleaning.

An unusual and rare collection of papaya is to be seen at the Irvine ranch. The plants were transplanted after orange money at the meeting of the directors last week.

B. K. Bishop, chairman of the beekeepers' department of the farm bureau, presented all directors of the bureau with a half pound glass jar of Orange county orange honey at the meeting of the directors last week.

With the co-operation of the Santa Ana Sugar company, farm bureau officials have been busy this week checking fertilizer experiment plots for sugar beets.

The Orange county farm bureau will take an active part in aiding in an Oriental survey which is being conducted on the Pacific coast, following a talk made before the directors at their monthly meeting last week by J. A. Knapp, chairman of the Orange County Oriental Survey committee.

For the purpose of advising grape men in training their vines and to make a survey of the grape industry in Orange county, Prof. Frederick Broletti, specialist in grape growing from the University of California, was in the county last week.

J. D. Brown, irrigation specialist of the University of California, will be in the county Friday and Saturday of this week to make demonstrations.

For the purpose of studying the possibility of draining alkali lands by a new method, Prof. W. W. Wier of the Southern Branch, University of California, will be in the county next week, according to word received here from him today.

Earl Campbell addressed the Buena Park and Cypress farm center meetings last week on "Reapportionment of Legislative Representation."

A campaign for pest control was started in the groves of the San Joaquin Fruit company last week. Dusting and spraying of trees was in evidence in every grove.

Aphis in groves in Orange county is lighter this year than any year previous, according to a statement made today by Farm Advisor H. E. Wahlberg. Campaigns against the pest have been carried on faithfully in Orange county with very good results. It was reported that aphis in the Puente district was heavier than usual this year.

L. D. Bacheller of the experiment station at Riverside was in the county last week studying irrigation at the San Joaquin Fruit company's property.

RIDING CLUB HERE
PRESSES FOR RODEO

The Orange County Riding club, whose members reside throughout Orange county, has requested the Orange County Fair association to promote a rodeo in Santa Ana this fall. A. M. Stanley, secretary of the association, disclosed here today.

Feats in horsemanship, fancy riding and races would make up the program, Stanley stated, if the plans of the riding club carry. He would take the matter before the board of directors of the fair association, the secretary added, to see if such an entertainment could be arranged.

On account of the danger involved in spreading the foot and mouth disease, it was announced recently that there would be no Orange county fair this fall.

A meeting of the riding club has been called for Saturday, at which time plans for the summer activities will be discussed.

"The recital to be given at the Temple theater here Tuesday night by Mrs. Eleanor Woodford, dramatic soprano, took on added interest for members of the Masonic fraternity here today.

This became known when officials of the Orange County Shrine club announced a dancing party it was to hold at Balboa that night had been postponed two nights in order than members might attend the recital.

Mrs. Woodford, it was stated, is the widow of Noble C. J. Woodford, for many years a Santa Ana resident.

A Shrine statement concludes: "We feel that it will be the wish of many of the nobility to attend the recital of Mrs. Woodford who is a finished dramatic soprano with a delightful personality."

PARK CENTER TO BE PICNIC GUESTS

Growers belonging to the Buena Park farm center will have the pleasure of attending a picnic to be held at the Orange County park June 13, without having to take sandwiches and coffee, members of the Cypress farm center admitted today.

In an attendance contest recently held between the two farm centers, the Buena Park center was the winner by the margin of a few points, and the reward to the winners was a picnic to be given by the loser.

Members of the board of directors of the Orange county farm bureau were being invited to be present at the picnic.

Spare Glasses

Many a man who always carries a spare tire on his car and has several extra pairs of shoes, trousers, etc., at home, never thinks of buying an extra pair of glasses for emergency use—even though he may be absolutely "lost without glasses."

Are you among the guilty ones? Suppose you break your glasses some morning while on your way to the office? Can you attend to business satisfactorily without them? Isn't the time lost while waiting for the broken glasses to be fixed worth more to you and to your business than the cost of an extra pair?

What's that? Don't want to be bothered with an extra pair? All right, then buy three pairs—one to wear, one to keep at home and one to keep at the office—you'd be "bothered" enough without any glasses, so play safe—now.

COMMITTEESSeek to Secure 45,000 So.
Calif. Names on Petition
For Reapportionment

For the purpose of circulating petitions relative to the proposed change in apportionment provisions of the state constitution, committees in all of the farm centers of the county are being appointed. A. M. Stanley, secretary-manager of the county farm bureau, announced here today.

"It is aimed to secure 100,000 names in the state and we want to get 45,000 of these south of the Tehachapi mountains," Stanley stated.

"Only 60,000 names are required. The reason for the proposed change is that the present provisions of the constitution if carried out would give control of both houses of the legislature to 3 per cent of the territory of the state to the three counties of Los Angeles, San Francisco and Alameda. Eleven of the twenty largest cities of the state and 53 percent of the population of the state is located in those three counties. This would mean that 9 per cent of the territory of the state, the vast agricultural area, would have no effective voice in the legislative body."

"To permit this complete control of the legislative body to pass to this small area of dense population would be contrary to a well established principle of American representative government as is evidenced by the provisions of a majority of the state with respect to their legislative bodies."

"Under the proposed change the fifteen senatorial districts allowed the three populous counties would be formed as nearly equal in population one with another, as may be, which, according to the census figures of 1920, would give Los Angeles eight; San Francisco, four; and Alameda, three, with the further limitation, however, that no one city have within its limits more than four senatorial districts. The purpose of this latter limitation is to insure representation to the rural territory of a county such as Los Angeles, where otherwise most of the districts to which the county is entitled might be so formed as to be controlled by city population."

ROTARIANS TOLD
FATHER'S DUTY
TOWARD SON

"We have heard a lot about a boy's duty to his father," said William McKay, chairman of the boys' work committee of the Rotary club, at the club luncheon at St. Ann's Inn yesterday, "but today we will hear what a boy thinks a father's duty is toward his son."

This introduction was tendered Louis Napier, son of A. V. Napier, a member of the club.

Young Napier in a self-possessed manner gave to the club a short, humorous address.

"Of course," he said, "boys had nothing to do with the selection of their fathers. We take them as we find them and get along with them as best we can."

The speaker declared that he believes it a father's duty to make a study of his son and to study with him in an effort to find out what the boy's characteristics are.

"When one goes on a camping trip," he said, "he loads up the flivver. First he selects the equipment. He looks over the engine and gets the machine into shape for the trip. It is the same way with a boy in getting ready to go somewhere through life. He looks to his father to help him properly equip himself. He needs help and encouragement in the preparation that he is undergoing. His father should help him pick his destination."

Following Napier came an address by R. R. Miller, county probation officer.

"Long ago while a student of the university," he said, "I was told by an instructor in economics that the important thing in dealing with the welfare of boys is to give the boy ideals rather than economic betterment. And the older I get in the work of dealing with boys, the more important those words seem to be."

Miller said that today the youth is not satisfied with the adventures that used to satisfy the growing boy.

"Just ordinary devilment like stealing watermelons is too tame for some of our youngsters these days," continued the speaker. "They think they aren't having any excitement at all unless they have an automobile, a bottle of booze and wild women, and are tearing around the country. In our work we must recognize that there is a class of boys who are drifting into that kind of thing. These are the kind of boys who along with all others need to have ideals instilled into their minds and hearts."

The club enjoyed two solos by Robert Melkile of Los Angeles, well known singer, who has visited the local club a number of times and who is always a welcome guest.

3 OFFICERS TO GET $100 FOR
JAILING BOYS7 Accused of Looting Fair
Body Warehouse of $1000
Equipment Stored

Three Santa Ana police officers will share a $100 reward offered last week for the capture of youths who are charged with breaking in, destroying and stealing approximately $1000 worth of electrical goods and other equipment from an East Sixth street warehouse belonging to the Orange County Fair association, according to Secretary A. M. Stanley of the fair association.

City Marshal L. C. Rogers, Inspector Sid Smithwick and Detective Earl Lentz are the officers, according to Stanley, who are eligible to collect the reward.

They took into custody seven youths whose ages range from 7 to 11 years, and are holding them for prosecution.

The arrests were made, according to Stanley, following the finding of a boy's name written in chalk on the floor of the building. It was also stated that the boys gathered up large electric light bulbs, costing about $15 each, and threw stones at them, "to hear them pop."

United Workmen

Of New Lodge

A lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen had been instituted in Santa Ana today, following installation ceremonies held at Lawrence hall. Ceremonies instituting the new lodge and installation of its officers were conducted last night by E. T. Lisle of Los Angeles, California manager for the organization. The charter list was secured by C. E. Dimple, district manager for Orange county.

"The officers and members of the new lodge are very enthusiastic over prospects," Dimple said, "and predict the lodge soon will rank as one of the leading fraternal organizations of the city."

The following were installed as officers:

Jacob R. Mayer, past master workman; Ernest M. Fox, master workman; J. Floyd, foreman; George W. Huff, overseer; Cecil Drake, recorder; Kittle L. Dimple, secretary; George Hogg, financial secretary; Ivan A. Evans, guide; Pinkney F. Poole, inside watchman; George Glover, outside watchman; Fred W. Gutshall, Arthur F. Blanding and Mayer, trustees; Dr. S. A. Marsden, medical examiner.

LITTLE NOTES ON
ORANGE COUNCIL

ORANGE, June 11.—Addison Brown, representing in Orange the Automobile Club of Southern California, yesterday afternoon talked the local city council into insuring seven of the city automobiles in his company against property damage and personal liability claims at the regular meeting of the board of trustees.

Mr. Rice, past owner of a subdivision, who claimed to have recently paid $75 to secure the closing of an alley on his property, was asked to pay $100 more for attorney's fees on account of a new ordinance which went into effect April 21, paid the $100 after considerable argument between the city clerk, city attorney and some of the trustees.

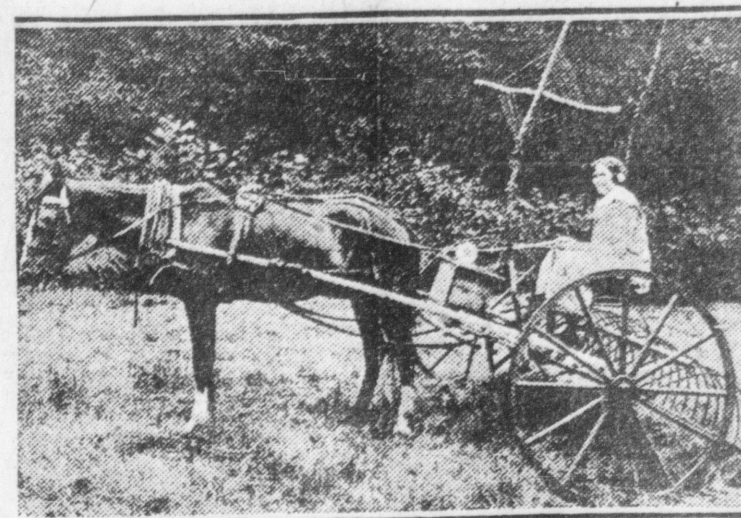

According to Rice, the understanding was that the alley would be closed for a consideration of $75. The project was brought up some time ago and dropped again until a petition to close the alley had been lost. During this time an ordinance providing for a fee of $100 for the city attorney's services in the closing of the alleys went into force and Rice was left no choice but to pay the extra $100.

After considerable deliberation over certain sections of Ordinance 169 passed in 1920 creating an office of water rate collector, and also ordinance number 223, which provides for the collections by the city clerk, it was decided that neither were in much force and the city attorney was instructed to amend section 4 of ordinance 223.

The matter of hanging a sign over the front of a downtown store was taken up by Wayne Goble of Santa Ana and disposed of by the trustees.

A petition asking for a sign to prevent the dumping of rubbish at the end of Rivera avenue was submitted to the city trustees and after considerable deliberation it was decided that the dumping spot was not in the city limits and the city had no jurisdiction over the matter. The dumping of grass and burning of rubbish at this spot will be discontinued by the city.

The demand for a total sum of $827.50 by Mr. Fross of this city was rejected as the city trustees declared that the claim should be made out against the contractor. Fross demanded a sum of $247.50 for water. He also charged that a total amount of damage done to his property including the destroying of nine trees and ground amounted to $580.

POULTRY GRADE
PLAN ADOPTED
BY COUNTY

Six grades for poultry raised in the seven Southern counties of the state were established at a meeting held at Riverside this week. W. M. Cory, assistant farm advisor, who represented Orange county, stated today. The meeting was attended by representatives of the Accredited Breeders and Hatchers' association of Southern California, and discussions hinged on the topic of better poultry raising.

A. M. Stanley, secretary-manager Orange county farm bureau, A. E. Block and W. S. Hatch, also attended.

Plans for the raising of poultry standards in Orange county will follow immediately, according to Cory, who will conduct special tests in mating here, beginning next week.

The first three grades that were established at the meeting correspond with the Sonoma county hatchery plan, Cory stated, while the last or 4a grade, is for chickens pedigreed for two generations back in their group would be hens that lay between 225 and 280 eggs a year.

BIG EGG HONORS
CLAIMED IN S. A.

An egg produced by a Rhode Island Red hen owned by Israel Montayne, 113 Franklin street, is the largest that has been seen here this year, Montayne boasted today.

The egg which Montayne exhibited weighed five and one-eighth ounces and measured 8-3/4 inches from end to end and 7-3/8 inches in circumference.

The shell of the egg was unusually thin and had been cracked at the time it was laid. There was no shell, and the space inside the egg could be determined by holding the egg to the light.

"This egg is a Santa Ana egg, and gets the championship for Orange county," said Montayne, without qualification.

ASK EXHIBITS FOR SHOW AT ORANGE

Farm centers of the Orange county and growers generally have been invited to participate in an exhibit show programmed at Orange for three days beginning September 24 under the auspices of the Orange Community Chamber of Commerce, according to word received here today by A. M. Stanley, secretary-manager of the Orange county farm bureau.

The invitation received by Stanley, he stated, will be taken before the fair association directors and the directors of the farm bureau for consideration.

Kiwanis Club of Fullerton Wins
California Race

FULLERTON, June 11.—The Fullerton Kiwanis club was first in California in the efficiency contest which recently closed.

Announcement to this effect by President G. W. Finch at the luncheon yesterday afternoon, was greeted with vociferous applause.

The local club's percentage was based on the following standard: Public affairs, 40 per cent; attendance, 25; social activities, 20; inter-club relations, 10; district and international activities, 5.

Warm tribute to Secretary Dan O'Manion was paid by Finch, who stated that his reports have found such favor that they are going to be used as samples for emulation by clubs all over this district which embraces the whole of California and part of Nevada.

CHICAGO, June 11.—"Our women-folk have quit listening in on the party telephone line and have taken up radio."

So answers one caustic rural correspondent to a questionnaire on radio sent out by the Illinois Agricultural association.

The radio broadcasters are awake to this new interest down on the farm. Nearly every station puts on programs which are aimed as definitely as a mail order catalog at the farm population. An even more definite and a far broader program for rural consumption is being shaped by the American Farm Bureau Federation.

A year and a half ago, federation headquarters here pioneered into the broadcasting field.

It's Educational
"We want to make the farm radio programs a combination of university, newspaper and chautauqua," says Kibler.

"It isn't to be an exclusive affair. We want the co-operation of all organizations interested in agriculture. Already the National Live Stock and Meat board, the National Live Stock Producers association, the committee on boys' and girls' club work and similar organizations are united with us in the project.

"A forum for agricultural discussion is the ideal. It should work into the broadcasting of a farm program every evening from half a dozen or more scattered stations to bring it within easy range of every part of the country."

Whether the farm audience itself craves the university and forum features in addition to the entertainment, remains to be demonstrated. So far, apparently, folks prefer to hoe the corn to music rather than to lectures.

Jazz Wanted
One of the most popular farm features yet reported in Chicago has been the Saturday night barn dance.

"Plenty of jazz music and talks that are short and to the point," was a majority answer as to favorite programs, in the agricultural association questionnaire already mentioned.

The questionnaire also revealed many practical services of radio to the farmer. The principal diseases which are found are stem rot, black rot, and scurf diseases. Virtually all of these occur in the seedbed and when the young plants are moved to the field they naturally succumb to the disease, thus causing a poor stand.

Replies to the questionnaire from 73 county farm bureaus in Illinois showed 20,845 radio receiving sets on farms in those counties, indicating 10 per cent of the farm population supplied. President Bradfute of the farm bureau federation estimated recently that 250,000 radio sets were scattered among the 2,000,000 farm homes within 500 miles of Chicago.

Another important factor in field management is the maintenance of uniform moisture content in the soil throughout the growing season. Many cases have been found where the ridges have been emphasized too much, resulting in excessive fluctuation in moisture content and allowing a period of drought at times, followed by excessive moisture. If the hills are constructed somewhat lower and a little broader the exposed surface is lessened, thereby decreasing the amount of evaporation.

Cannot Make Expenses
A detailed survey of the sweet potato acreage made by the Extension service last year revealed poor stands ranging from 35 to 17 per cent. With such low stands it is not possible to make expenses.

SWEET POTATO
CROP LARGER

Acreage, Says Advisor

FIELDS VISITED

Says Stand of Plants Now
More Uniform Than Usual
At This Time

By H. E. WAHLBERG
The acreage devoted to sweet potatoes in Orange county this year is somewhat greater than the 1923 acreage for this crop due chiefly to the comparatively high prices that were obtained during the past season for this commodity.

Last year's acreage was somewhat below normal because of the unprofitable production during the season of 1921-1922. Reports from the Bureau of Crops and Markets, United States department of agriculture, indicate that the sweet potato acreage for the United States shows an increase of 16 per cent over last year. This will no doubt be the largest acreage ever devoted to this crop over the country as a whole.

The present indications for the crop so far this year in Orange county are very good. An inspection trip made last week revealed a very healthy condition in most fields visited. The stand of plants is more uniform than usual at this time of the year.

Sees Growth Uniformity
The weather condition of the past three or four weeks, although not conducive to rapid growth, has been favorable for transplanting operations, which has resulted in a better than average uniformity of growth.

There has been an unusual demand for sweet potato plants and virtually every seedbed has been exhausted and many orders have been turned down.

It is yet too early to predict what the production will be this year, but if good husbandry is practiced by the average grower and climatic conditions continue to be favorable Orange county should produce one of the largest potato crops in its history.

Production in some fields will be considerably increased this year because of the attention given by growers to the selection of seed from the highest producing and most vigorous hills found in their fields.

Seek Better Seed
The Agricultural Extension service and farm bureau, through field meetings, have pointed out the need for improved seed and better production. There has been a general impression among the sweet potato growers of the county that the acreage production has been on the decline for the past few years. This decline is largely due to the fact that too little attention has been given in the past to proper seed selection. Some growers are realizing this as one of the fundamental causes of reduced production and have sought better seed for the present season.

Disease control is another factor in increasing production of the field. The principal diseases which are found are stem rot, black rot, and scurf diseases. Virtually all of these occur in the seedbed and when the young plants are moved to the field they naturally succumb to the disease, thus causing a poor stand.

Stocks, Bonds, and Financial News

WALL ST. JOURNAL FINANCIAL REVIEW

NEW YORK, June 11.—Today's stock market was even more impressive than the previous session's performance, carrying prices among the leading stocks considerably higher on a generally increased volume of dealings.

Some of the spirit which characterized the trading was imparted by the good feeling resulting from the advance outline of the probable campaign of the Republican platform, particularly the planks regarding the party's stand on taxation.

But the belief that stocks had discounted the business recession continued by far the most important influence of the day's proceedings.

Stocks continued to display remarkable strength through the last hour. Short covering became increasingly urgent as the upward movement gained ground throughout the list and new highs were reached by leading rail and industrial issues in the final dealings. Union Pacific was an outstanding feature of the carrier group, gaining more than three points to a new high for the year at 184 1/2.

Southern Railway attained the top price at 27 1/2. In the industrial group pronounced activity at rising prices went ahead in a number of representative stocks. American Can reached a new high on the move at 108 1/2. American Woolen 72, and To-108 1/2. American Woolen 72, and To-108 1/2.

The market closed higher.

Closing prices followed:

At the present time Brea and La Habra belong to the Fullerton school district. Opinions of growers relative to a change are desired.

L. D. Palmer, manager of the Orange County Fruit exchange at Orange, is to make the principal address at the meeting, according to the program.

If you have backache or puffed eyelids, swollen ankles or clammy hands, it's probably poison settled in your kidneys, and the sooner you get rid of it, the further away from the grave you'll be.

Roots and herbs are best for this purpose as Dr. Carey, for 40 years a practicing physician, well knew.

If your kidneys are making your life miserable the best medicine is none too good. Cut out this notice, take it to C. S. Kelley Drug Store (mail orders accepted) or any good druggist and see that you get Dr. Carey's Marshroot Prescription 777. It comes in both liquid and tablet form and the price is only 75 cents.—Adv.

FREE GUN CASE MAN ON TRIAL AS FELON

Instructed by the court to reduce the charge from a felony to a misdemeanor, a jury went even farther and freed the defendant altogether, in the case of Jesus Jimenez, charged with carrying a concealed weapon, it was made known today.

At the conclusion of the Yorba Mexican's trial late yesterday in superior court here, Judge R. Y. Williams read an instruction to the jury, ordering consideration of the charge as a misdemeanor rather than as a felony, as it had been designated under a new statute which makes it a felony for aliens to carry on own firearms capable of concealment on the person.

The constitutionality of the law was not questioned by the court, though the act has been declared constitutional by a northern judge. The instruction to reduce the charge was based upon failure by the prosecution, according to the court, to prove that Jimenez was an alien. The court held that the burden of proof rested on the prosecution to prove that Jimenez was foreign born and had not been naturalized.

D. G. Wetlin, deputy district attorney, argued for the state, that such proof in most cases would be virtually impossible to establish, since naturalization could be secured in any county in the United States. He contended that the case before the court came under the exceptions to rules for burden of proof, such as in cases involving practice of medicine without a license, or other license or permit cases, where the burden of proof rests upon the defendant.

The jury eliminated all issues in the case by finding the defendant innocent of any offense, it appearing from testimony that officers who came to arrest Jimenez on a burglary charge had ordered him to "get his coat and come along." The pistol Jimenez was charged with carrying had been in his coat, hanging on the wall. The defense argued that Jimenez had carried the concealed weapon only because the officers had in effect ordered him to do so.

Attorney James L. Allen defended Jimenez.

Beach Trustees Consider Change Of Meeting Time

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 11. That future meetings of the city council here may be held at 1:30 p. m. instead of during the evening hours is a question to be decided by the public, it was decided at the city trustees meeting this week. William Wharton proposed the change of the time of meetings, and on motion by other members of the council it was decided to ask for the opinion of the public as to which they would prefer, a meeting at night or in the afternoon.

The next regular meeting will be held at 8 p. m. next Monday at which time opinions will be asked of those who attend the meetings, as to which time they would prefer.

Fear Auto Crash Fatal to Woman

LOS ANGELES, June 11.—Mrs. Susie Coones of Belvidere Gardens, was probably fatally injured and Earl Coones cut and bruised when a machine they were occupying crashed into the Ninth street bridge guard rail. Mrs. Coones was thrown out of the machine and from the bridge, landing in the sand 30 feet below.

Power Probe To Be Considered By State Board

ANAHEIM, June 11.—The city of Anaheim is included among towns which have received notice to have representatives present at the hearing to be conducted by the railroad commission on June 13, to consider the institution by the commission of an investigation into present emergency resulting from abnormally low precipitation.

Many of the cities are included in the proceedings because any possible shortage in their wholesale supply of energy will necessarily affect their consumers, while others are included because power produced in their steam plants is available to other companies through the inter-connected systems.

L. A. PORT TRIP PLANS SHAPED BY BOOSTERS

Final details have been completed for the cruise of Los Angeles harbor to be made June 26 by 150 harbor boosters of Orange county, Harry Welch of Newport Beach, secretary of the Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce, announced today.

The excursion date was set ahead from an earlier one in order to give more time to complete the sale of tickets, which have been limited to 150, this being the capacity of the official boat which is to take the party on the tour of inspection.

Captain Sandberg, chief of the traffic department of Los Angeles harbor, has wired his approval of the arrangements, and C. J. Colden, president of the Los Angeles harbor commission, who extended the invitation, also will be on hand to welcome the party.

Santa Ana will have a large delegation, and a committee comprising members of the Chamber of Commerce, the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Santa Ana Board of Realtors will act as hosts for the city. A joint committee has been appointed to represent the local harbor district with Dr. Conrad Richter as chairman. Other members of the committee are J. P. Greeley, R. G. Chambers, J. A. Beek, F. L. Rinehart, George Neil, Guy W. Higbey.

Jack C. Wallace of Santa Ana has been appointed to write to other cities of Orange county to have representatives on the trip. It is expected that Orange, Anaheim and Fullerton will be represented on this journey to the great port.

A special train will run from Newport Beach to San Pedro, leaving Balboa at 12:45 p. m., arriving at San Pedro at 2:15 p. m., and returning will reach Newport Beach at about 6 p. m. The tickets on the special train will be $1.10 for the round trip. Excursion executives urge application for tickets be made early to any of the members of the committees.

Orange Faculty List Announced; Only Three Leave

ORANGE, June 11.—All but three of the faculty of Orange Union high school will remain in that school next year.

According to F. A. Henderson, principal, the three who are to leave the Orange high school are Agnes Arthur, of the history department, William L. Toothaker, physical education instructor, and Margaret Robertson, of the mathematics department.

Only one of the teachers to take the places left in the faculty is so far engaged. Avis Middleton is that teacher. Miss Middleton has had seven years of teaching experience and has been for the past three years in Redlands, Cal. She has a post graduate degree from Stanford University.

Anaheim Y.M.C.A. Plans 'Find Self' Program for Boys

ANAHEIM, June 11.—Fifteen of the leading business men of Anaheim met Monday night with thirty boys enrolled in the "Find Yourself" campaign which is now being conducted by Secretary Warren Ashleigh of the local Y. M. C. A. The campaign is being conducted in order that the business men may serve to be interviewed by the boys, who desire to follow certain professions after leaving school, thus giving them the benefit of their experience.

The principal speech of the evening was given by James McGill, director of the boys' work at the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A., who held a conference with the men after the meeting, at which time a general outline of the work in view was planned.

Thought 3 Little Children Needed Mother's Care

"My stomach suffering was so severe that I could not have lasted much longer. I did not care so much for myself but did not want to leave my three little children who needed a mother's love and care. A cousin in California wrote me about Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and I took a course of it. I have since been entirely well." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and alleviates the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.—Adv.

NO ACTION ON TEACHER'S PETITION

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 11.—The school board has a right to dismiss any teacher who is serving her first or second year and has not started her third year, according to the California school law, it was pointed out by William McKenney, president of the board of school trustees here last night. A teacher expressed complete satisfaction with the work of Miss Secrist on the part of parents, several of whom testified that their children had progressed more under Miss Secrist than ever before during the school life.

The petition further asked that the board of trustees withdraw their request that Miss Secrist resign. Among the parents to testify as to the work of both Miss Tittlebaugh and Miss Secrist were Mrs. Peter Ausing, and Mrs. Edward A. Baudette. Twenty-five signers were listed on the petition asking that the board withdraw their request that Miss Secrist resign. They were said to represent the parents of the children taught by Miss Secrist during the past year.

Members of the board said they could take no action because the teachers in question were not present at the meeting.

Among the many signers of the petition were Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Talbert, C. J. Mills, Mrs. W. L. Mayhew, C. N. Whittam, Mrs. F. H. Burdeman, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Paul Jr. and C. W. Conrad. The petition was accepted and placed on file by the board, and later read at the request of one of the parents.

According to school officials, although Miss Tittlebaugh's work has been very satisfactory during the past two years, she will "not fit into their school system next year".

The hearing was held especially for Miss Cora Secrist, a teacher at the grammar school for the past five years. A petition on her behalf similar to that of Miss Tittlebaugh was submitted to the board also. The petition expressed complete satisfaction with the work of Miss Secrist on the part of parents, several of whom testified that their children had progressed more under Miss Secrist than ever before during the school life.

The petition further asked that the board of trustees withdraw their request that Miss Secrist resign. Today's Most Modern Car Every Unit Improved by Use

THE 1925 Chandler now offered to the public represents the splendid result of eighteen months' development.

No other car is more clearly abreast of the times. None contains so many recent developments of established merit.

A big, beautiful, modern car, it carries an assurance of master performance and sound service.

Exhaustive experiment has preceded each of the improvements that have been steadily added.

This exclusive Chandler feature is a thoroughly perfected unit. Other manufacturers are in the midst of ambitious experiments with the principles it involves. Chandler success has brought the subject of better gear speed changing into national prominence.

Already thousands of Chandler owners are familiar with the safer, more delightful driving made possible by the Traffic Transmission.

It makes clashing, rasping gears an impossibility. All drivers make a silent, flawless gear change from high to low or low to high regardless of driving conditions.

Yet the driver handles the Traffic Transmission exactly like the standard gear shift. In its use there is absolutely nothing new to learn.

Pikes Peak Motor

As attested by the longest string of high gear records ever held by any stock car, this famous Chandler power plant still stands as the ultimate in engineering achievements.

WIFE TELLS OF 'TRIANGLE' IN 'NEST' CASE

Testimony regarding an asserted domestic triangle that was declared to have broken up the home of G. E. Brookins, former Brea editor and later proprietor of a print shop at Anaheim, and which resulted in the arrest of Brookins and Mrs. Addie Wiley, 19, in a raid at Newport Beach, was being concluded here today before a jury in the superior court of Judge F. C. Drumm. The couple are charged with a statutory offense.

Late yesterday, after the jury had been sworn, Mrs. Brookins, the wife, testified Mrs. Wiley had entered the quiet, happy home life of the Brookins family and, according to the witness, had finally won the husband away from his family. Mrs. Wiley was accompanied to court by her two young children.

City Marshal J. A. Porter at Newport Beach and other officers were summoned as witnesses today to describe a raid they claimed to have conducted on a cottage there where they said they found Brookins and the young wife of his former employer, C. C. Wiley.

The present trial is the second occasion that the Anaheim couple have been brought before a jury. The jury disagreed at their first trial, several weeks ago.

C. N. Mozley, chief deputy district attorney, was conducting the prosecution, with Attorney Charles Swanner appearing for the defense. The attorneys expressed doubt that the case would go to the jury before tomorrow.

ASK EXTRADITION OF BIGAMY SUSPECT

Requisition papers, asking for the extradition of George L. Gorman, 24, from Phoenix, Ariz., to Santa Ana to face a bigamy charge, were on their way today from District Attorney A. P. Nelson to Governor Friend Richardson.

On their return, if approved by the chief executive, the papers will be turned over to Sheriff Sam Jerigan, it was said, and Deputy Sheriff J. L. McFadden will be sent to Arizona to procure the prisoner.

The marriage of Gorman to Helen Kellogg, 25, of Santa Ana, in this city May 13 formed the basis of the bigamy charge. It was alleged that when he married Miss Kellogg, Gorman was already legally wed to Leona Bishop, Los Angeles, the daughter of a late Arizona cattleman. His marriage to the Los Angeles girl, it was alleged, took place at Ventura, July 17, 1922.

In the last 40 years pasture land has decreased about 3,000,000 acres a year while crop land has increased about 4,500,000 acres.

Schumann-Heink to Sing for Vets

The afternoon of Sunday, June 15, will be long-remembered in the annals of Southern California musical history when, at 3 p. m. the most loved of all singers, Madame Schumann-Heink, sings in the Hollywood Bowl, Los Angeles, according to a notice received here today. This brilliant operatic and concert star will give a semi-popular program which is expected to thrill thousands of music lovers.

This concert is given under the auspices of the Los Angeles county council of the American Legion. Ample seating equipment has been provided and other arrangements for the convenience and comfort of those who will visit the bowl have been completed.

BEACH H. S. ALUMNI TO PICNIC AT PARK

Plans are being speeded for the annual banquet of the Huntington Beach High School Alumni association, to be held at the members' "alma mater" Saturday night, June 14, according to information received here today.

The affair was originally intended to be held at the Orange county park, but the beach high school was chosen instead because it was regarded as easier of access and less crowded.

One hundred and fifty persons are expected to attend the picnic, which will begin at 5 p. m. Luncheon will be served at 6 p. m. A dance and old-time assembly will be features.

Mrs. Estelle Vanduff Hurst, now teaching at Hollywood, will give a talk on the classes who graduated from the beach high school prior to 1916.

Charles Cook, another graduate, now attending the Santa Ana junior college, will speak on "The Classes From '16 to '23."

Vocal solos will be given by Virgil Elliott, who graduated this year.

CLOVER BEATS ALFALFA
A beef feeding trial conducted at the Wisconsin College of Agriculture recently resulted in a slight advantage to clover over alfalfa. Two lots of steers made an average gain of 378.1 pounds in the case of clover feeding, and 377.5 pounds with alfalfa.

There are about 9000 farm co-operatives in this country.

DRY LAW RAIDS AT BEACH NET MORE RUM

SEAL BEACH, June 11.—The police drive against liquor continues. The marshal reports several new arrests, and has confiscated bottles of bootleg from Lee Caparan, Earnest Pratt, Junior Wild and Harry Day. These men are alleged to have had liquor in their possession when about to enter stands and concessions on the Pike. The officers also raided one or two alleged bootleg joints Sunday night, but were unable to secure evidence. At one place, while the officers were searching the rear of the premises, two sailors walked into their presence and unaware of the officers' identity, drew bottles from their pockets. They were arrested.

Plan Carnival
A midsummer carnival and industrial exhibition is planned for early in August. The Boosters Club last night heard the report of A. P. Morris on the feasibility of the plan and committees were reorganized to complete arrangements. It was also decided to hold a fitting celebration July Fourth, although the program on this day will not be pretentious, as the club realized that every beach community in the South will likely give a somewhat similar program. Fireworks in the evening will be on a large scale.

The entertainment committee as reconstituted last night includes A. F. Morris, Roy Miller, Paul Helrick, A. W. Armstrong, John Lindsay, Mrs. Leo Markham, Mrs. Glenda Boston Smith, Mrs. Hattie Guehrer and Mrs. J. P. Hamilton.

The executive committee will consist of G. H. Morrison, Lindsay, J. J. Walder, Ahrens, Armstrong, A. E. Walker, William Templeman, R. D. Richards, Neldig and other heads of committees.

Chairman Fred Smith reported that receipts from Saturday night's dance approximated $175. The profits go into the advertising funds. Sunday dancing was under private management. More than 1000 persons participated.

Propose Seal Park
A movement to have the municipalities of Long Beach and Seal Beach erect a highway footbridge and seal park promenade parallel to the Pacific Electric railroad bridge spanning the mouth of Alamitos Bay and joining Long Beach and Seal Beach was launched at the meeting of the Boosters Club last night. A. W. Armstrong drew up resolutions which were adopted by the club, calling upon the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce and the city trustees to take action in cooperation with Seal Beach. Mr. Armstrong pointed out the damage done by the frequent and apparently unwarranted statements that the rail bridge is to be removed. In view of the development of sections of the cities on both sides of the narrow bay he pointed out the advantage to the residents and the tourists of building an additional bridge for the use of pedestrians and motorists.

School Teacher Becomes Bride of El Modena Man

EL MODENA, June 11.—A very quiet home wedding, but one of especial interest to the community, took place at high noon Tuesday, June 10, at the home of Lee Barnett in El Modena, when Miss Mary Barnett became the bride of Mr. Douglas Marshburn, Rev. Ray Carter officiating. Pink and white gladioli, baskets of sweet peas of the same color added by masses of gypsophylla and Cecil Bruner roses, and a large, airy wedding-bell of baby gladioli, formed a pretty setting for the wedding.

The bride, very sweet in her simple gown of white silk crepe, and carrying a shower bouquet of pink sweet peas, met the bridegroom under the wedding bell at the appointed moment, when they were made man and wife.

After congratulations and best wishes had been given, and Miss Eva Marshburn had caught the bouquet, light refreshments were served to the guests who had witnessed the ceremony. The bride then disappeared to array herself in her becoming going-away costume of sand-colored silk raitine with accessories to match.

The happy couple, slipping away from the group of friends who had gathered in front of the house to decorate their car for the honeymoon trip, escaped through a rear door to a car which had been hovering in the vicinity, but not before they had been showered with rice, or before the bride's "small brother" had become a stowaway on the spare tire on the back of the machine.

After a few weeks spent in Honeymoon Land Mr. and Mrs. Marshburn will be at home to their friends at the home of the bridegroom, the Marshburn homestead on North Alameda street.

Mrs. Marshburn has been a resident of El Modena for some six years, and in her quiet manner has smiled her way into the hearts of young and old alike. HOUSEWORK NOT DRUDGERY

For Women In Good Health

Read How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Changed Conditions For These Housewives

Back Don't Bother Me Now

Lincoln, Nebraska.—"My back would bother me so and when I had to do any heavy lifting it made me sick to my stomach with the pains in my back. I have my housework to do and four babies to take care of so when I heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I took it and I feel better. My back don't bother me and I can eat more and wash for six in the family. I will tell other women to take the Vegetable Compound and you may publish my letter."—Mrs. CHARLES F. DOLEZAL, 1201 Garber Avenue, Lincoln, Nebraska.

Felt Better At Once

Volga City, Iowa.—"I will tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. I was all run down and could hardly be on my feet. I was so cold I could not keep warm. I had numb feelings and then heat flashes would pass over my body. I had severe pains in my sides and was very nervous. I saw your advertisement in the newspapers so I thought I would try your medicine. My husband got me a bottle of the Vegetable Compound and I began to feel better as soon as I started taking it. I have taken it off and on for three years now. I keep house and do all my work for my husband and two little boys and make my garden. I feel fine and I tell others what the medicine has done for me. I think it is the best medicine in the world for women."—Mrs. THOMAS GRINDLE, Volga City, Iowa.

Can Do Any Kind of Work

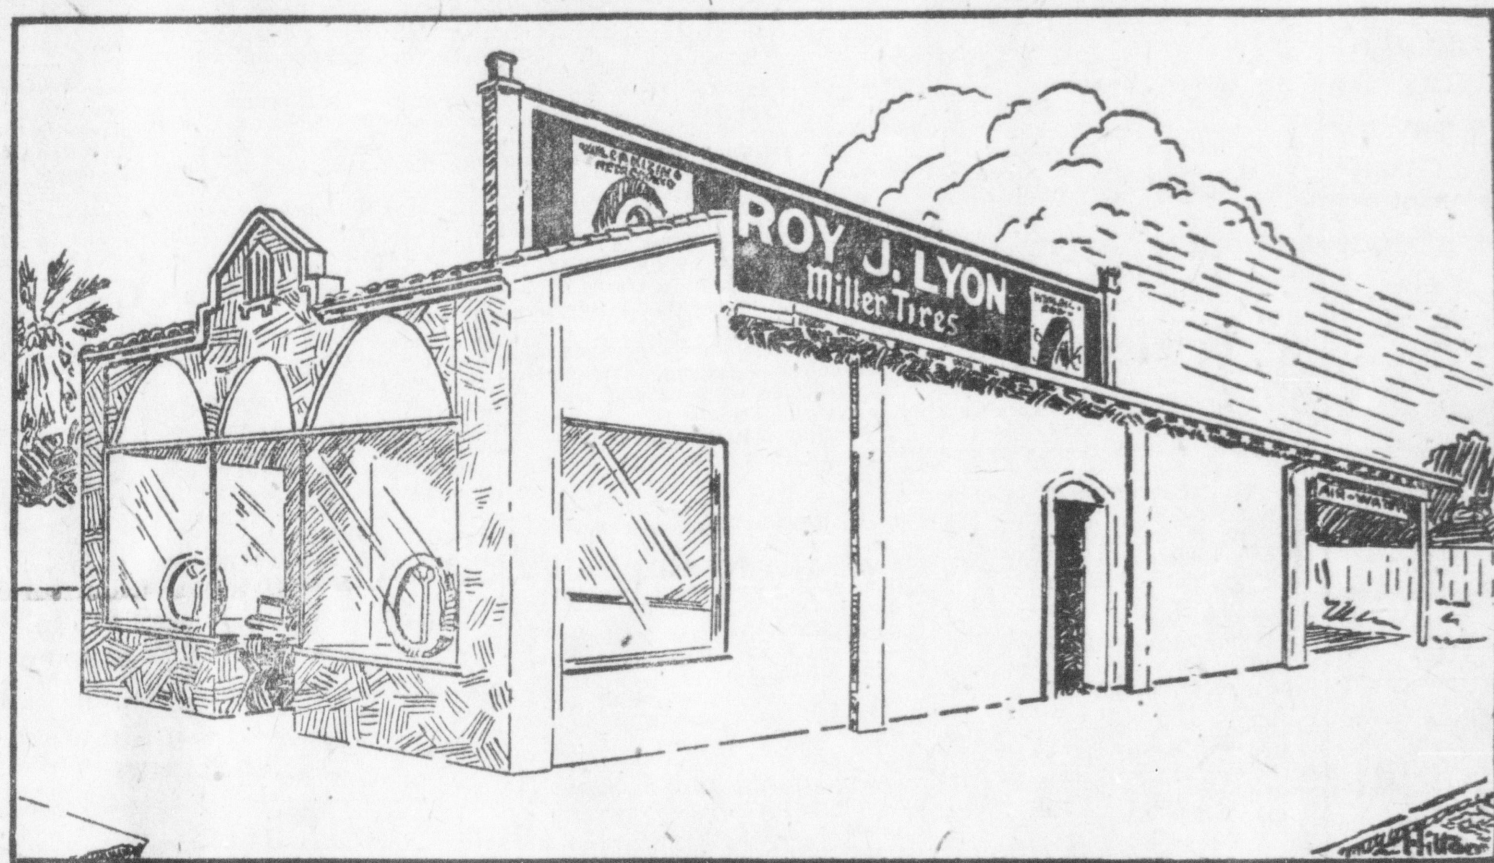

Fouke, Arkansas.—"I had the 'flu' and after that I had a pain in my side and was not able to do my work I was so weak. I found an advertisement in a paper and it told what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would do, and I took it. Now I can do any kind of work I want to. I think every family ought to keep it in the house all the time and I intend to do so."—Mrs. DORA PHILLIP, R.R. No. 2, Fouke, Arkansas.

Over 100,000 women have so far replied to our question, "Have you received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?" 98 per cent of these replies are "Yes."

This shows that 98 out of every 100 women who take this medicine for the ailments for which it is recommended are benefited by it.

This goes to prove that a medicine specialized for certain definite ailments—not a cure-all—can and does do good work. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Movie Chatterbox

Has the aspiring picture play scenario writer a chance to show his wares? In many studios he has not. Original manuscripts are not wanted, and the budding author who submits his masterpiece soon finds it out.

"Write your scenario into a story. Go get it printed in some good magazine. Then maybe we'll talk to you."

That is the dismissal handed out by the heads of various scenario departments. Why? Many reasons are given. A photoplay made from a book or story will naturally have a following. Persons who have read the yarn will want to see it in cinema form. Picturized novels or short stories are, presumably, given an added glamor of importance and interest by reason of the fact.

So, in most cases, the scenario that has never known any other existence, goes begging, no matter how many new ideas or how much original plot material it contains.

One of the comparatively few producers who champion the original manuscript is Jack Coogan, senior, father of the illustrious Jackie.

"Thousands of dollars were spent annually," Coogan stated in an exclusive United Press interview, "in the maintenance of scenario departments and high salaried editors whose entire time was devoted to culling unsolicited or original stories. In the recent readjustment of the industry, many producers thought it necessary to abandon these departments because the number of acceptable stories found among the thousands submitted was negligible."

"But producers must have stories to film, and when they cut off the supply of original stories and turned to published novels for their material, these prices rose, and all kinds of high prices for books have resulted."

Favors the Original.
"Personally, I am in favor of the original manuscript and believe that the future of the industry lies with the new writer," Coogan continued. "I want to hold out a helping hand to all who possess the story telling talent. A story-teller is born, the art of writing an interesting yarn comes naturally, and as a rule is not acquired; but scenarioization must be acquired via the academic route."

"Columbia University, Harvard, the University of California and a number of other famous educational institutions have recently opened departments of photoplay writing. All the great schools of this country will eventually come to it."

Coogan has framed ten commandments for aspiring scenario writers to help them on the road to success. They are:

1. A plausible plot structure, within the bounds of reason and good taste.

2. Write about the things you know; not about the things you don't know.

3. Make your characters human, not pale reflections of characters you have read about.

4. Study the springs and origins of human impulses and make them vital in your story.

5. Remember that a sense of humor is the saving grace of life.

6. Don't attack religion—attack hypocrisy.

7. Don't write beyond your depth; keep within the limits of your own experience and knowledge.

8. Don't begin by revolutionizing. No artist ever violates a rule of art until he knows the value of the rule he violates.

9. Read the daily papers; many a great story lies between the lines of a small news item printed at the bottom of a page.

10. Stay away from the fake movie schools.

Maurice Tourneur is looking for the perfect (dramatically) motion picture actress—regardless of the fact that everyone has been seeking her for years.

Should he find her, she will receive the leading part in "Belongings," his next First National picture. Besides being an actress known to the public, Tourneur says his star should have these requirements:

1. The dramatic fervor of Norma Talmadge.

2. The delicacy of Constance Talmadge.

3. The innocence of May McAvoy.

4. The exotic appeal of Barbara La Marr.

5. The comedy of Viola Dana.

6. The physical daring of Pearl White.

Stage and Screen

Lewis Stone and Irene Rich in "Cytherea," the picture showing tonight, tomorrow, Friday and Saturday at the Yost theater.

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.
YOST—Vaudeville and "Cytherea," with Lewis Stone.

WEST END—"Girl Shy," with Harold Lloyd.

WALKER—"The Shooting of Dan McGrew," with Barbara La Marr and Lew Cody.

TEMPLE—Santa Ana Community Players present "Three Wise Fools."

"CYTHEREA" OPENS AT YOST TONIGHT.
An unusual story, alive with the glow and spirit of romance and adventure; settings and exteriors of rare beauty; perfect acting and direction, and a theme of universal appeal.

That is the irresistible combination of "Cytherea." Goddess of Love, which begins a four-day engagement at the Yost theater tonight.

The cast includes such popular players as Lewis Stone, Alma Rubens, Norman Kerry, Irene Rich, Constance Bennett, Betty Bouton, Charles Wellesley, Lydia Yeaman, Titus, Peaches Jackson and Mickey Moore.

"Cytherea" is a masterly romance; a genuine reflection of life. Appearing human and splendidly enacted, the spectators will see themselves in the characters that move across the screen, so realistic is their portrayal of the roles they have been selected for.

ATMOSPHERE ABUNDANT IN "DAN MCGREW."
Atmospheres of the most picturesque nature is abundant in "The Shooting of Dan McGrew," the current attraction at Walker's theater.

The great background of the Yukon, of course, plays a big part, but the opening scenes of the picture offer still more novelty in scene.

This section of the film is laid in the South Sea Isles, and shows the cabin of an old tramp steamer which has been turned into a cabaret by the stranded theatrical troupe of which Lou, as played by Barbara La Marr, is one of the leading members.

The interior of the vessel presents a wild, exotic scene, with swinging lamps, half-naked natives, gamblers, dancing girls, and adventurers of all types.

Scientists predict that the dominion of man is on the wane, and that in time women will be the ruling sex.

Giant of Lloyd's Film Booked For Yost Theater Act

John Aasen, the 503-pound giant who played with Harold Lloyd in "Why Worry," will appear on the Yost theater vaudeville bill here tomorrow, Friday and Saturday nights, Manager E. D. Yost announced today.

Aasen claims to be 8 feet 9 inches tall as well as the largest man in the world. His Santa Ana appearance will be the last in Southern California as he has been booked for the next several months in large Eastern cities.

In his vaudeville act, Aasen does more than show his huge frame and rattle off a few words. He is said to be something of a pianist and a vocalist.

PSYCHOLOGY OF LAUGHS TOLD BY LLOYD.

There is a peculiar psychology about the making of comedies for the screen that absolutely has to be understood by the producer if he expects to make good pictures. Harold Lloyd explained this one day while engaged in the production of "Girl Shy," now showing at the West End theater. A group of visitors on the sidelines were laughing heartily at the action in progress at the time.

"That's a bad sign," averred Lloyd, who joined the group after the scene. "In nine instances out of ten, scenes that get laughs in the making are disappointments when we see them in the 'rushes' shown the next day upon the screen."

Lloyd's theory has worked out many times. One of the biggest scenes of "Girl Shy," in which several hundred extras were employed, was filmed at night, and drew many visitors to the Hollywood studios.

The story called for a small town band, and the most ludicrous types were selected for this quartette. Everyone on the set, including Mr. Lloyd's staff, got a good laugh out of these musicians. Everybody thought they would be a scream on the screen. But the next day, when the "rushes" were projected they fell absolutely flat.

'Kiss in Dark' Radio Tune as Lights Go Out

NEWARK, N. J., June 11.—When Bronx lights went out one night recently, radio station WOR here heard of it. The announcer said:

"This is for the Bronx," and Gene Inghram's orchestra played "When the Lights are Low" and "A Kiss in the Dark."

And the telephone rang steadily for an hour bringing congratulatory messages from radio listeners who confessed to having followed the musical advice.

The carat, used as a gem unit, weighs more than three grains.

FIND ANCIENT BONES

Prehistoric skulls and bones hold no terror for Miss Hazel Wilson, of Huntington Beach, who is shown here holding the skull of an Indian said to be about 500 years old. Dr. John A. Comstock, director of the Southwest Museum of Los Angeles, recently pronounced the bones as being probably between 400 and 500 years old. A large pile of other bones and rocks are shown in the foreground.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 11.—Harking back to the days when Indians roamed at will over California, long before Spanish padres and Spanish soldiers came, discovery of Indian graves on the property of the Long Beach Country club, two miles west of Wintersburg has brought a new interest in their property to the members of the club.

It is proven beyond question that the club golf course will cross and re-cross ancient Indian village sites.

Several Indian skeletons and numerous Indian relics of stone, including a remarkable stone bowl, four feet in diameter, have been dug up by men excavating upon the grounds.

The sites of the villages are easily determined, for they are indicated by a deep accumulation of shells, and a fine soft silty soil made up of the filth of camps and charcoal of ancient fires.

The country club property includes the Ray Moore and Amel Kettler ranches, recently sold to the country club. Located on the point of the mesa, overlooking the lowlands where, ages ago, a river may have emptied itself into the nearby ocean, were the Indian villages.

The discovery of Indian skeletons in the village itself bears out the reports made by investigators, who say that it was the habit of early California Indians to bury their dead at the edge or within the village itself.

E. Ray Moore, superintendent of the property, stated that the skeletons so far found have all been in a crouch position three and a half or four feet beneath the surface. Stone implements were found above the skeletons, and sometimes beneath them.

The skeletons and implements will form an exhibit in the country club house when it is built. The remains which have been discovered are believed by Dr. John A. Comstock of the Southwest Museum of Los Angeles to be those of members of the Gabriel Inyo tribe of Indians and he believes the burial occurred 400 or 500 years ago. Grading work for a country club has revealed the skeletons.

According to Moore many Indian stone implements have been found about the ranch at various times by Moore and members of his family. Hollow stone tubes nearly five inches long, and large pestles have been discovered on the place.

Big Bowl Found
One large bowl nearly four feet in diameter was uncovered recently and taken to the club house at Long Beach. The bowl is pronounced a perfect specimen, being about 18 inches deep and fully preserved.

The Indians who inhabited this region were supposed to have been on friendly, trading relations with the Catalina Indians it is claimed as stone implements found here have been found identical with specimens of the Catalina Island Indian tools. Many interesting spectators have visited the scenes of the discoveries during the past few days.

NERVOUS WOMEN SHOULD HEED MRS. RAMP'S ADVICE

"There's No Reason For Women To Suffer," Says Muskogee, Okla., Lady.

"It has been six years since I have taken Tanlac, but I shall never forget how it helped me," said Mrs. Lillian Ramp, of 507 Callahan St., Muskogee, Okla., recently.

"My experience with the medicine certainly showed me how beneficial it can be to young women who have nervous spells and whose systems are out-of-order for various causes. At times every month, I would become extremely nervous, suffer terribly from headaches and be in such agony that I could hardly endure it. "The results Tanlac gave me were simply splendid. It relieved those awful headaches, quieted my nerves and regulated my system perfectly so that when I finished my last bottle of the medicine, I was feeling fine and had a world of strength and energy. I never need Tanlac now for I am enjoying good health but I gladly recommend it to women who suffer as I did."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 Million bottles sold.

THE LAND OF FORGOTTEN MEN

by Edison Marshall

Released by NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Peter Newhall, August, Ga., flees to Alaska, after being told by Ivan Ishmin, Russian violinist, he had drowned Paul Sarichev, the Russian, following a quarrel, Ishmin, and Peter's wife, Dorothy, had urged him to flee to South America. He joins the ship, Larson in response to a distress signal at sea, forcing him to a sea jacket upon him. The ship's rocks.
Dorothy receives word that her husband's body, identified by his sea jacket, has been buried in Alaska. She feels free to receive Ishmin's attentions. But Peter had been rescued by another ship. His appearance is completely changed and he is known as Limejuice Pete. He died his identity completely covered and takes a job in a cannery. Larson's body occupies his grave.
Ishmin urges immediate marriage. But Dorothy feels a stronger attachment for her late husband as a result of a last letter sent with his few belongings.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

Dorothy was laying all she had on the altar of vanity. She might have been able to restrain Peter's hard drinking if she had tried, if she had shown real interest. He never drank when he was alone with her—he did not even care for a cocktail before dinner—and at first he had not drunk dangerously to excess even with his men friends. This had begun to fall away from each other, after Ivan—no one else—had come between.

She knew perfectly that there was no happiness in thinking upon these things. The sensible course for her was to follow Ivan's advice, marry him, let him guide her steps down the shining path he promised, and play the game more desperately than ever. In the end this would be her destiny; she sensed it as certain.

It was this that persuaded her to the amazing course that she unfolded to Ivan one night in late July, and which at first he refused to credit; nothing less than an expedition into Western Alaska with the purpose of finding her husband's lost and neglected grave and transferring his remains to the dignified resting place in the old City Cemetery, and the Newhall family vault.

Ivan's attitude was at first uncompromisingly opposite. "Dorothy, that's ridiculous," he told her. "I won't hear of it! A long, dangerous trip for nothing."

She turned to him in amazement, vaguely offended rather than pleased at this solicitude for her. The look of his face baffled her; the idea had evidently moved him much more profoundly than the occasion seemed to justify. He not only looked earnest and determined, but almost desperate.

There was a quick flash of a starlight in his eyes that she had never seen before.

She was not pleased at his proprietary air, and she showed it.

He saw instantly that nothing was to be gained by violent opposition. His brilliant smile broke like the sunlight. "Let's talk this matter over sensibly," he urged.

"I can imagine how you feel—that you don't like to think of his poor remains lying out there on that lonely, rocky, desolate beach. But Dorothy, remember he left a note asking for immediate burial—it was not his wish to be sent home. He was buried decently—emphatically the ship captain wired you. Besides, you don't realize the difficulty of the trip. If you feel you must have poor Peter's body here, with his father's, why don't you hire men and have them tend to it, and you stay safe at home?"

"Let me explain," the girl answered, her good humor at once returned. "I want to say in the beginning that I do feel I must have poor Peter buried here, beside his father and his father's father—those distinguished men that headed the line. Ivan, there is something primitive in me in this regard; I want my own near me, where I can look after him, and do what I can for his memory. It's a human instinct, Ivan; and I hope it doesn't grate on your sensibilities. It's a real need in me, and I have to do it. Peter's crime against Sarichev was wiped out in his death; there is no reason why he should not lie with the other Newhalls, as is his right. You ask why I for me. Well, there are a good many reasons. The first is that it is my place and my right. In the second, I don't want desecrating hands at work at that grave—rough, wicked men who will say anything, do anything. At first I was willing to have it done that way, and three months or more ago I wrote to the Postmaster at False Pass, and had him engage men and boats and go and procure the casket. I've just learned that after great cost and many delays they have returned without finding the grave. They explained that they couldn't get hold of any of the ship's crew that had buried it, and they say that the country is simply immense."

"And they're right in that," Ivan observed.

"The work needs the presence and supervision of some one who is really interested," the girl went on. "I'm not sorry they didn't find it. Since I wrote that letter and I've decided it was my place and duty to see about this person—let's see that it's done right all the way through. As long as I have this feeling of duty unperformed—duty to Peter—I can't go to you. It's as if I am still bound to him—as long as he lies out there on that beach—but, perhaps, when we come back again, everything can be as you want it to be."

Ivan was not in the least convinced; but realizing that he could not possibly dissuade the girl from her bold project, he prepared to make the best of it.

"Well, in spite of a dozen reasons, why I should stay here—concerts, business, everything—I'm going with you," he told her. "You've got to have someone to look after you."

"I'm going to ask Uncle Ned to go. Mother's health, as you know, won't let her take such a trip. But it would be wonderful if you would go too."

Later they consulted schedules and travel bureaus, and after endless investigation concluded that their best plan was to take one of the large Pacific American Fisheries steamers out of Bellingham, Washington; go to Squaw Harbor, in the Shumagin Islands, and there hire a launch and guides to go the rest of the way to the place of burial on the north side of the Peninsula, Squaw Harbor not only seemed among the nearest settlements of any importance—far though it was—but Ivan wisely decided that because it had been the home port of the Jupiter, he could likely find men available who knew the approximate place of burial.

Thus it was that Aleck Bradford, superintendent of the cannery at Squaw Harbor, received the following letter:

Dear Sir:
Mrs. Peter Newhall, her uncle, Ned Stanhope, and myself are planning an expedition onto the north coast of the Peninsula with the idea of exhuming the body of Peter Newhall, whom you will remember was a victim of the wreck of your launch the Jupiter, and bringing the remains back to the family vault in this city.

Our plan is to take one of the Pacific American Fisheries boats to your cannery, and there, with your co-operation, we will hire a launch, to transport us the rest of the way to the scene of the tragedy. If you can help us in procuring a launch and suitable crew, also in engaging men who might know the location of the grave, it will be deeply appreciated by Mrs. Newhall and myself.

Yours very truly,
IVAN ISHMIN.

Bradford called his assistant, De Long, and they thought upon the matter together. "The tough part of it is, by the time we can get a wire to catch the boat," Bradford said, glancing at his calendar. "The Catherine D sails early in September—they can make it if they get a move on—but how will they get back? Of course the Catherine D will be back for the winter in Bellingham before they can encircle the Peninsula, find the casket and get back here in a launch."

De Long grinned cheerfully. "She probably hasn't the least idea what kind of a hard-boiled land this is." He knitted his heavy brows. "It will be easy about getting out, though. You know we're scheduled to send the Warrior down to Seward this fall, and the Warrior can take time out, and the Peninsula, pick up the casket, and go on down to Seward. At Seward they can transfer to one of the Admiral Line boats for Seattle."

"That's easy enough; perfect, in fact. They can go down to Seward, you and I and the others, down to Seattle on the Catherine, without having to delay the schedule waiting for them to return. The matter of getting suitable men for guides and camp help is not quite so easy, but I believe I've got that, also. Fortune Joe is a good native—he'll be glad of the chance to make some money—and he's a good worker."

De Long grinned. "The medicine man, eh? They may need a medicine man before they get back. Yes, he's a good one—for one. Of course he doesn't know the location of the body."

"No. For the other packer—they'll need at least two, especially if they don't find the grave for some days—they can have their choice of Buck Uman, Dago Sessa, or Nick Pavloff. Buck Uman is honest, but he's the laziest native that walks. Sessa is given to violent spells when he's apt to toss around his knife, and Pavloff thinks he's a priest. I don't know which two of the three are the worst."

"But not one of the three you mentioned, Aleck. I know where the body lies. We've got to get some one of Captain Johansen's crew for their main guide."

"And Captain Johansen and his crew have pulled out for Bellingham not to return until next season, and besides, the original burial party is scattered to the four winds. Jacks, the apprentice undertaker, is in Sitka. But De Long, I've got it. Send one of the paraposes down to the docks and tell Limejuice Pete to come up here."

In a few moments Pete's lean form stood in the doorway.

BY FRANK GETTY

NEW YORK, June 11.—Sam C. Hildreth, veteran trainer for the Rancocas Stables, whose entries have been sweeping eastern tracks this year, picks Grey Lag and Zev as the best American horses to meet Epinard, if the French champion comes for a series of match races this fall.

Recommendation of Grey Lag may occasion some surprise among turf followers who have missed the St. Louis six-year-old from the track this season.

But there will be no surprise among those who know Hildreth and know that the tactician trainer is secretly "pointing" Grey Lag for just such a come-back.

Grey Lag was ever Hildreth's first love. Zev his second.

Hildreth and the United Press correspondent were sitting on the little porch outside Colonel Matt Winn's offices at Latonia last November, looking out across the track to the blue, smoke-hung Kentucky hills beyond.

Grey Lag Best

He had been talking of Zev, which was to face My Own and in Memoriam on the morrow, and of Man o' War and equine giants of the past.

"What, in your opinion, is the greatest horse you ever trained?" Hildreth was asked.

For a moment the white-haired trainer permitted a wisp of smoke from his cigar to curl upward in the evening stillness. Then he answered uncompromisingly:

"Grey Lag."

"Greater than Zev?"

"Yes, sir!"

"Greater than Man o' War?"

But only the curling blue smoke answered this, its wisps forming a question mark.

Grey Lag had foot trouble, and started only five times in 1923.

The colt's average was as good as any save those of Zev and My Own, however.

Sinclair's horse won five races and finished second the other time, contributing $26,900 to the stable's purse winnings.

Last year Grey Lag won the Metropolitan handicap and the Suburban. It won the Belmont stakes and the Brooklyn handicap on previous occasions.

Bad feet kept Grey Lag from greatness and Hildreth from achieving his greatest ambition as a trainer. Now it is being whispered about the stables that he is going to bring Grey Lag back.

Zev, Hildreth's second choice, needs no recommendation to the American racing public.

The dusky son of the Finn won $235,248 in 1923, besides defeating Payrus in the international stake race.

Big Leaguers Would Lure Crack College Catcher Off Campus

varsity catcher at the University of Michigan, is a much sought young man in the sport world. The St. Louis Cards, New York Yanks and the Cleveland Indians have made him attractive offers. Miami University also wants him as football coach next fall.

Star Girl Skaters Of Co. To Compete For Crown Friday

The best girl skaters of Orange county will clash Friday night at the Elite rink here, 316 1/2 East Third street, in the final contest for the lock of gold medal offered by the management. Preliminary matches are being held this week.

The Orange county championship for men roller skaters was won by Jason Lee, 18-year old Santa Ana, last week. He completed the mile in 4 min. flat and a few strides ahead of John Elliott of Santa Ana and Fred Hughes of Los Angeles.

The three contestants all fell in a heap on the twenty-third lap and Lee, first to his feet, retained his narrow lead despite the fact that one of his wheels was broken in the fall.

Improve Laguna Cafe Now Open

The Raven cafe at Laguna Beach, which opened its doors recently for the summer season, has been thoroughly renovated and various improvements have been put in that makes its appointments complete. The cafe is noted for the excellence of its cuisine, according to J. L. Hunter, proprietor, who is also proprietor of San Juan Inn at San Juan Capistrano. Many Southern California tourists and motorists, he said, have pleasant memories of his two cafes.

ASK BOARD TO LIFT SUNDAY TENNIS BAN

Sportsmen Here Circulate Petition Urging Courts At Poly Be Opened

Whether the Santa Ana board of education does or does not approve of the use by the public of the Santa Ana high school tennis courts on Sundays probably will be definitely settled at its next meeting.

Sponsored by a large number of local sportsmen and racket wielders, a petition, urging that the board take action that would permit the use of the courts on Sundays, today was being circulated here.

More than 100 citizens, it was understood, had affixed their signatures to the document at an early hour this afternoon.

The petition will be available at the Victor Walker sporting goods store, 205 West Fourth street, to persons who desire to sign, it was announced.

"Scores of local tennis enthusiasts are handicapped by the present rule barring players from the courts on Sunday," Walker, one of those interested in the circulation of the petition, said today. "We see no reason why these courts, paid for and kept up by the taxpayers of the city, should not be available to the public on the one day that most of them are free from business to play."

"We hope to have at least 500 signatures on the petition when it is presented to the board of education and we feel that the board will take satisfactory action."

HERMAN OUTPOINTS LAMAR AT VERNON

LOS ANGELES, June 11.—Babe Herman, Sacramento featherweight, won his second straight battle at Vernon last night when he defeated Bert Lamar, Los Angeles Mexican, in four rounds of fast milling. Lamar lacked the experience to offset Herman's aggressiveness and the northerner had a clear lead over most of the journey.

George Manley, former Denverite, was beaten by Eddie McGovern. Manley showed little of the form he exhibited at Vernon when he trimmed Bert Colima. McGovern, a rugged battler from San Francisco, had a sharp edge.

Nick Newman lost to Mickey Erickson in the feature preliminary. Other results on the seven bout card were as follows:

Ruby Layne beat Mike Solano, decision. Billy Alger knocked out Benny Kilroy in the first; Manny Kaplin kayaked Jack Doran in the fourth; Joe Burns beat Champ Monroe, decision.

Joe Benjamin will tackle Dode Eeroct in next week's attraction at Vernon, it was announced last night.

YOUTHFUL PREP SPRINTER IS CANDIDATE FOR PARIS TRIP

FRANK HUSSEY

According to Lawson Robertson, veteran coach, Frank Hussey, New York high school boy, is the coming 100-yard champion of the country. Robertson is training young Hussey now with a view to placing him on the Olympic team. Should Hussey come through he'll be the youngest member of the American sprints team.

'GREEKY' WILLIAMS FORSAKES TROJANS

Star of Last Fall's Poly Eleven Tires of Campus Gind, Packs Books

Don ("Greeky") Williams, brilliant scintillator of last fall's Santa Ana high school football eleven, and rated by grid experts as one of the leading prospects for future U. S. C. teams, has packed his books and left the Trojan institution, it became known today.

Whether the fleet little quarterback has had his fill of college life or merely pulled out at U. S. C. because of certain unsatisfactory conditions was not definitely learned. It was understood, however, that Williams would not enroll at the Los Angeles institution next fall.

Coincident with Williams' withdrawal, it was reported here that Elwayne ("Eeny") Wilcox and Newell ("Jeff") Cravath also had about decided to call this their last semester at U. S. C. These rumors could not be verified.

Expect Raney To Be Named Pilot Of Trojan Team

According to well-founded reports received here today, Neal ("Flash") Raney, former star Santa Ana high school all-around athlete, is certain to be elected captain of the 1925 U. S. C. Baseball varsity. Raney, who is under contract to the St. Louis Browns, if he should ever decide to take a fling at bad professional ball, was the sensation of the Pacific Coast conference this year. He led the Trojan team in hitting, run getting and in stolen bases. This is his third season on the Trojan varsity.

Raney is expected to join the Irvine Beaniepickers after he completes his term at college next week. He is an outfielder.

Girl Puts Value of Shapely Legs At High Figure

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 10.—A pair of symmetrical legs are worth $40,000 to any American girl, says Frances Orlando, 17 years old, who was run down by a truck and her knees and ankles so severely injured that she fears their beauty is lost forever. She sued the truck owner at once.

Of the 2000 students enrolled at the University of Arizona, the youngest is Elsie Dinsmore, who has just passed her fifteenth birthday.

VILLA DEFEATS TAYLOR.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Pancho Villa, world's flyweight champion, decisively defeated Bud Taylor, Terre Haute, Ind., in 15 rounds at Henderson's bowl last night.

The cucumber crop of the United States suffers a loss of between $3,000,000 and $5,000,000 annually due to the cucumber beetle. This insect not only injures the plant by feeding, but carries bacterial diseases that are injurious to other plants.

GOSSIP OF THE RING

The ring career of the two best fighters France has developed virtually to an end with 48 hours.

Georges Carpentier, former world's light-heavyweight champion, ended his at Michigan City when he lost ignominiously to Tommy Gibbons.

Two days later, Eugene Criqui, gallant featherweight who lost his title in that division to Johnny Dundee here last year, foreswore the ring forever after a knockout at the hands of Danny Frush.

Carpentier may go on fighting; probably he will win some more bouts before he really passes out of the picture. But his last chance for real ring fame ended when he took a beating from Gibbons on Decoration Day.

Poor Gene Criqui is definitely brave. No one who saw the brave fight he put up against Dundee in New York, staggering, blinded, about the ring and refusing to quit, can help but sympathize with the stout-hearted little Frenchman when he says:

"I'm through. You won't see me getting knocked out from ring to ring. A better man beat me (this was after the Frush fight in Paris) and I've no excuse. No broken hands—no broken heart."

"I've had my day, been champion of the world. Now I'm not good enough any more. I'd have gone back to the United States and had another trial for the title if I'd beaten Frush, but I couldn't."

This passes Criqui, a fighter Frenchman, Gene was a real fighter, maimed in the World war so that his whole jaw was shot away. Surgeons patched him up, putting a sheep's bone in place of the little fighter's jaw.

Criqui returned to the ring, fought his way to the top, despite his wounds, came to this country in 1923 and won the world's featherweight title by knocking out Johnny Kilbane. Then came the match with Dundee. Instead of returning to France to gather the plaudits and francs as world's champion, Criqui consented to meet the Scotch-Wop a few weeks after the Kilbane fight. He received a terrible beating, from which he never recovered.

JACK QUINN HIS WINNER AFTER 22 YEARS

Long Service In Baseball Fails to Dim Greatness of Red Sox Twirler

By BILLY EVANS

Pitcher Jack Quinn of the Boston Red Sox stands out as one of baseball's greatest athletes.

After 22 years of pitching, a greater part of it in the major leagues, Quinn is apparently as good as he ever was. His work has featured the sensational showing of the Boston Red Sox in the early stages of the 1924 American league race.

Jack Quinn is a soldier of fortune as far as baseball is concerned. His career as a pitcher reads more like Frank Merriwell fiction. He has been in and out of the majors three times. He has pitched in the American, National and Federal leagues.

It is a rather interesting fact that the World War gave Quinn a new lease on life after he had seemingly passed out of the majors for good.

Back in 1918 Quinn was pitching for the Vernon club of the Pacific Coast league. Because of the war that organization shortened its season.

The major leagues had suffered greatly because of the loss of many players eligible for service. Players of big league caliber were at a premium.

Quinn was given permission to finish the season with the White Sox of the American league. He won five games out of six. The New York Americans, it seems, had a prior claim to his services and he was awarded to that team in 1919. He spent three years with the Yankees and was traded to Boston in 1922. This is his third year with the Red Sox.

A PUZZLE A DAY

"A pint's a pound, the world around." This saying is, of course, erroneous; but let us assume it to be true, in the case of sand and water, those two essentials which "make the mighty ocean and the pleasant land."

Which, then, would be the heavier: sand or water?

EVENING SALUTATION

For rest at end of weary days,
Lord we give praise;
For little homes wherein love reigns,
Where faith remains
To bless the little plot of ground
Where truths abound:

HOLD INDUSTRIAL SITES

One of the strongest arguments in favor of the purchase at this time of areas to be held by residents of Santa Ana for industrial sites is the history of the advancement of realty values in and around Santa Ana.

The argument may be put in these words: "It will never be bought for less."

This same argument holds good in relation to property that might serve for park purposes. The difference between an area suitable for the location of a manufacturing plant and one suitable for a park is in the fact that an industry must be situated close to railroad facilities; the park may be situated without regard to railroads. A few years ago it was thought that a park had to be placed near street cars. Today, with automobiles and bus lines, rails are not a deciding factor in selecting a park site, but they are in relation to the choosing of a manufacturing plant.

The committee of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce and the other members of the Chamber of Commerce who have already subscribed to the fund to be used in the purchase of land in the vicinity of the Southern Pacific and Pacific Electric railroads between Santa Ana and Delhi road know that one of the reasons why many industries are seeking sites outside of Los Angeles is their cost in that city. The glass factory, we are informed, will acquire its site and build its factory in Santa Ana for what the site alone would cost in Los Angeles.

The committee proposes to hold this property so that it will be available for sale to suitable industries. The proposal is sound and logical, and ought to have the support of the residents of the city.

HASTEN THIS KIND OF WORK

Merchants along Fourth street are hoping that the city authorities will use every feasible means of putting through the proposed sewer line on Fourth street swiftly, once the work is begun. Theirs is a hope in which citizens generally join.

It is hard for the ordinary resident to understand why it takes so much time to lay pipes and get a street into shape for paving. It is hard for him to see the necessity of a single day's delay in repairing a street in which main or lateral trenches have been dug.

We are convinced that the city authorities fully realize the annoyances that may be caused by seemingly unnecessary delays, and that they take whatever precautions are legally possible in hastening the work. A number of times contractors have been called on the carpet because they have not kept their jobs going. However, some of the delays cannot be helped by the city. The contractor is given a certain period in which to do the work. To shorten the period unduly oftentimes would make the cost of the work unnecessarily high.

The contractors, the public utilities and the city itself, should watch carefully and reduce to a minimum the inconveniences that the public suffer. Especially are we all desirous that the placing of a new sewer line along Fourth street be done without loss of time during the job and with provisions made for reducing the amount of flying earth. We have had quite a bit of flying dust on a number of our close-in business streets lately, and the complaints that have been made, it seems, are not entirely unfounded, for it does appear possible that much of the earth left loose on the pavement could have been removed days before it has been or will be removed.

A BAD TEETH PARADE

Addressing an audience of dentists in one of the large cities, a school official says there ought to be a public parade of children in the public schools who have defective teeth. The size of the procession, he said, would astonish everybody. In examining many thousand pupils, it has been found that only 53 per cent of the boys and 65 per cent of the girls have "teeth that might be rated as good."

And why do the girls have better teeth than boys? Probably because the girl takes better care of her teeth.

It would make an impressive and not altogether pleasant picture—the parade suggested, with thousands of boys and girls marching, presumably with mouths open, to show their bad teeth. Something might be accomplished that way, in dentally backward communities.

The idea of the parade was to impress upon the dentists the need of greater attention to the teeth of the young. Dentists, however, are usually alert enough on that subject. It is fathers and mothers who need to be impressed.

THE SUMMER FIRE MENACE

Fire destroyed 508 million dollars worth of American property in 1923, the underwriters estimate. That is enough to pay several solid bonuses.

Fully three-fourths of these fires were preventable. Especially is that true of forest fires.

Camping season is at hand and the time of year is at hand when newspapers join hands with forest officials in pleading with campers, some of whom seem bent upon destroying the things they enjoy.

So we say:

Never break camp until absolutely sure the fire is completely extinguished.

Never throw any glowing matches or cigaret stubs in the hills or from the window of a train.

Don't forget that forest rules are made for you as well as for the man in the next camp and in the next county.

But there is little profit in disputing about styles. They go their own course, almost regardless of criticism and law.

THE TWENTIETH AMENDMENT

There can be little doubt that the Twentieth Amendment to the United States Constitution will be the child labor amendment, now submitted to the states for ratification. Though there is vigorous opposition in some states, which still consider children's labor profitable or essential, there is such a sentiment against it in the country as a whole that approval by three-fourths of the states is only a matter of time.

Such action is inevitable with the progress of modern society. It was natural, as the industrial age developed, that children should contribute their mite toward the general labor, where there was work for so many hands and it was hard to feed so many mouths. But the evils resulting from the industrial employment of children, and even their agricultural employment, have become steadily more apparent. Also the need of their help has grown less, with the improvement of labor-saving machinery.

Self-interest and humanity both argue for the prolongation of the child's period of childhood, for good education during the period when the mind learns most readily, for the healthful play that is essential to proper development and for the happiness and freedom that are every child's right. It is inconceivable that the richest and most enlightened nation in the world should deny these things to its boys and girls.

Nominating Conventions

Long Beach Press
Two great political conventions, to assemble this month, will nominate candidates for the Presidency and Vice Presidency. One of them will be elected in November. Even though there should be a formidable third party, there is no likelihood that it could gather enough strength to win the election—although a new party organization might have decisive effect upon the result. To all intents and purposes, however, either the Republican or the Democratic National Convention will name the next president. This gives weight of importance to the proceedings of the two big conventions, the first of which assembles in Cleveland next Tuesday.

In a country which is governed through political organization, it is highly important that the influences at work in and about the National Conventions should be thoroughly representative of the honest, sincere, conscientious rank and file of the two great parties. If the conventions thus are influenced and controlled, the nominations should be unobjectionable and the platforms should be all that could be desired by the masses of the people, according to their respective party alignments.

Boynton's Correct Example

Stockton Independent
One the eve of the departure of the Coolidge delegates yesterday for the Cleveland convention, Albert E. Boynton addressed the delegates, assuring them that he would do everything in his power to bring about a great Coolidge victory in this state in November.

Officially, of course, nothing less was to be expected of Boynton, as Republican state chairman. But Boynton is not speaking merely officially; he is speaking personally. Boynton is a good fighter, and in his political career he has been both a good winner and a good loser. He has been a loyal and sound Progressive, one who has never played fast and loose with great economic issues like taxation and revenue, for ephemeral factional advantage. He recognized that the contest in California between Coolidge and Johnson was one of personal preference and difference of view as to national and international policies, but a contest to be waged within the party ranks. Unless parties are to disintegrate, unless the direct primary is to contribute to schisms, factions and blocs, Boynton's attitude is the only correct one.

The State's Responsibility

Redlands Facts.
Just what measure of responsibility lies upon the State of California for the terrible fire in Playa del Rey the other night, in which 23 moron girls lost their lives, it is hard to tell. The State has a home for mentally deficient children in Sonoma county. That home has had a waiting list for years. The children in the home at Playa del Rey would have been in a fire-proof state home if the state had met its obligation to provide the necessary quarters. The deficiency was sought to be solved when the Pacific Colony was established near Pomona. Under the economy plan of the state administration, this home was abandoned, and the quarters available for dependents of this kind are less than they would have been with the development of that institution.

Probably it is not too much to say that if the Pacific Colony enterprise had been developed as it should have been, most if not all of the lives lost would have been saved, for they would have been at Pomona in fire-proof buildings.

That is the question in front of California taxpayers. Shall we meet our obligations to the character mentioned, or shall we face holocausts like the one of a few nights ago?

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.
HOW LONG SHOULD YOU LIVE?
One who has investigated the matter, Dr. Leonard Williams, states that man should really live from 120 to 140 years.

He bases this on the fact that if you estimate the average age of the lower animals in relation to the time it takes them to reach maturity, and apply that formula to man, he is really cheating himself out of fifty years of life.

He attributes this to the fact that man is "gifted" with reason.

This reasoning process is his undoing. With an animal, its instinct teaches it what to eat, and the amount to eat. If it has eaten too much, or unwisely, it fasts for a day or two. What about man? He looks about for something "different" in his diet, perhaps loads himself up with medicine to counteract his indiscretions in diet. He forgets that he is an animal, the highest type of animal, of course, but nevertheless an animal with an animal body. He needs just the same kind of food, exercise, and rest, as the animal which has no reasoning power, but only instinct to guide it.

It does seem wrong that men and women, walking erect, with dominion over all the animal kingdom, made in God's own image, as we're taught, able to traverse land, sea, and sky, will not use good judgment in the care of this wonderful body of ordinary sense about the care of this wonderful body of ours. I am so fond of understanding of the needs of the body, why men and women know less about its functions than about a motor car. It is not hard to explain.

You are in ordinary health, get up in the morning, go about your daily duties, eat your meals and then off to sleep again at night. That body of yours does everything for you so easily, so smoothly, that you don't really have to give it any thought. Its very nature is to undoing. You know how you have always felt toward the health "crank." You figure him as going by the clock ways, up at a certain time, so much physical "culture," then a breakfast of so many calories, so many chews to each bite of food, then his outdoor "breathing exercises," his lunch of raw vegetables, and so forth and so on.

The very thought about it, makes you feel glad that you still have your mind and body. Now this is a fact. You may have had to adopt some regular system for his particular case. But you may go to the other extreme, and because of your perfect health just go along year in and year out with no thought about trying to preserve the parts that may wear out. Any one weak part can shorten your life. You are only as strong as your weakest part.

No special system is required. Get your physician and dentist to look you over at least once a year. And at least try to follow their advice.

About This Time o' Year

BLEST BE THY
LOVE, DEAR LORD

Blest be Thy love, dear Lord,
That taught us this sweet way,
Only to love Thee for Thyself,
And for that love obey.

O Thou, our souls' chief hope!
We to Thy mercy fly;
Where'er we are, Thou canst protect,
Whate'er we need, supply!

Whether we sleep or wake,
To Thee we doth resign;
By night we see, as well as day,
If Thy light on us shine.

Whether we live or die,
Both we submit to Thee;
In death we live, as well as life,
If Thine in death we be.

—John Austin.

Ten Books

Stockton Independent

The Stockton public library announces that beginning today as many as ten books may be taken out at one time and retained for the entire summer, that is, until October 1. An exception is made as to seven-day books.

It is a fine idea. Summer, especially vacation, is the time for reading and the library is carrying out its policy of public service. If this offer should be generally availed of and the summer vacation reading taken seriously, it is interesting to speculate on the possible results. It is also interesting to speculate on what may be contained in ten books that may easily be read in four months.

Of the very greatest literature of the world, all is contained in ten books—perhaps in fewer. Homer, Plato, Dante, Shakespeare, Goethe—that's only five; perhaps no two persons would agree on the next five.

Or if you are interested in any subject, ten books will give you a very comprehensive knowledge of it. Read one book that treats the subject generally and then read others that treat particular phases more specifically. With wise selection you will hardly need to read ten books on any subject to be well informed upon it.

Another suggestion, if you want to read literature, read old or new books. Literature is not subject to the limitations of time—that is what makes it literature.

If science, either natural or social, appeals to you, read the modern books. This year's are better than last year's. If you do not recognize the name of the writer, a good guide is the college or other recognized institution with which he is connected. Nearly all modern scientific books are written by professors.

Read anything that interests you, whether standard, propaganda or special pleading. But if you read propaganda or special pleading books, frankly recognize that you are getting only one side. Remember that the author is writing a brief, that he is not telling you all, that he is not treating you fairly. But if you read with this understanding and if the book should be the means of interesting you in the subject so that you may read "the other side," you will have profited. If this should emancipate you from the tyranny of print, the common tendency to assume that because you "read it in a book" it must be so, you will have gone a long way on the road of self education.

And finally, if your selection is to be light fiction, there is no reason why you should not read good literature, for some of the best literature of the world, both ancient and modern, is light fiction.

But to return to the beginning, there are wonderful possibilities in ten books for four months to be your very own. You can become heir to all the ages, you can literally make over your mind, you can have for the rest of your life background, viewpoint and an outlook that literally will make you a new person, living in a new and wonderful world that you had never seen before, and you will find them delightful companions for the rest of your life. Wonderful possibility in ten books!

Lincoln walked many miles to borrow one book. We wonder how many will walk, or drive up, to Market and Hunter street to borrow ten books for all summer? And we wonder what the ten will be!

Little Benny's
Note Book

by Lee Page

We was eating suppur last nite and ma sed, O deer, izzent that too bad. Lima beans and corn are my 2 absolutely favorite vegetables and its jest my luck to have them both on the table at the same time and theire both just loaded down with calories and I cant eat either one of them, she sed.

Meaning on account of her trying to reduce her weight by not eating anything with calories in it, and pop sed, Not at all, you can help yourself freely, havent you herd of the latest discovery?

No, and neither have you, ma sed.

Very well, if you dont want to take advantage of the latest step in science, go ahead and suffer, pop sed.

And he kept on eating, and pretty soon ma sed, Wat discovery are you talking about? Has it got enting to do with calories? she sed.

Its got everything to do with them, pop sed. It seems some Germin professor named Winemstone has discovered that calories come in 2 classes. The first class, wich he calls the schmickelbrau or yeast calories, makes you grow heavier, while the 2nd class, wich he has named the rausmit or stationnary class, meely keep you iackly as you are, and lima beans and peas belong to the rausmit or stationnary class, pop sed.

I never herd such and absord riggermarole in my life, ma sed. Then why dont you write the perferer a letter telling him you know more about the subject than he does? pop sed.

Because there never was eny such a perferor, ma sed, and pop sed, Well, I only know wat I read. Well, I dont believe a word of it, but jest to give you the benefit of the doubt and to prove Im at least brnd minded on the subject Im going to eat jest a tiny bit of lima beans and a tiny bit of corn, ma sed.

And she took a table spoonful of each and ate them with a happy expression.

These Worrisome Times

Kansas City Star

It is apparent we are living in critical times. Even if science doesn't succeed in exploding an atom and perhaps blowing the planet to bits, there's a chance the world will be hit by a comet within the next few months. No body seems to know what would happen in case of such a collision, but it is probable it would at least take our minds off other things. Three comets are headed our way, and seem to be running on wild time, without definite schedule.

That information was enough to create uneasiness, but worse remained behind. Having told us about the comets science proceeded to reveal another fact we had not previously been aware of. It is that the island of Britain is slowly tipping eastward. It has tipped several feet within the last 300 years, it is announced. Right here it may be re-marked that science has a very inadequate notion of news values. It has known for 300 years that Britain was tipping and has said nothing about it. For 300 years we have been deprived of a worry that was rightfully ours.

Of course, it is well known that the Gulf Stream is changing its course and that if it changes sufficiently it will have a marked influence on the destinies of man. It might affect climates so considerably as to shift whole populations—possibly making Florida Republican.

Marked changes have been observed in the moon. Elderly persons say it isn't what it was when they were young. They can walk under it now and remain perfectly calm. What is happening to the moon is uncertain, but it is possible it is preparing to return to its original location, which was the bed of the Pacific Ocean. If it should do that it would necessarily involve some changes here. The Pacific Ocean would have to be moved somewhere. Where? Possibly it would arouse controversy.

The sun is shrinking, too. How much scientists haven't definitely decided—they're sometimes careless in matters of detail. But if it shrinks enough it's bound to affect us sooner or later.

These things concern us deeply. They provide subjects for worry and debate—opportunities that should not be neglected.

Prevent Drowning

Supervised swimming is the answer to the question: "What can be done to minimize drownings?" Bathing in unprotected or unsupervised localities is the cause of most summer drowning fatalities.

This fact is apparent to any one familiar with the sight of the thousands bathing daily in comparative safety within the lifelines of large protected bathing areas maintained in our coast and inland lake and river cities. Swimming must be localized. Two things must be taken into consideration in the selection of localities. First, the bottom of the bathing area should be free from holes, quicksands, mud, boulders or material that might endanger or injure swimmers. Second, beaches should be adjacent to populous sections of the city. Organized prevention of drownings is not limited to larger centers of populations, by any means. Comparatively small municipalities have problems to solve also, and while it is not reasonable to expect that towns or small cities can provide sufficient finances to equip their water-fronts with elaborate systems of protection, it is quite within reason to suggest that signs should be erected to prohibit bathing at the dangerous localities; that life-saving appliances could be placed where necessary; that safe bathing localities could be surrounded by lifelines and trained men put in charge, thus making safe municipal bathing areas available for the citizens.

Municipalities of sufficient importance to maintain fire departments should insist on their firemen being properly trained in artificial respiration, and that the departments be supplied with small life-boats and necessary equipment, such as drags and first-aid appliances, so that they would be in a position to respond to aquatic rescue calls in cases of emergency.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 2—THE MAGIC GARDEN.

Nancy and Nick, now no bigger than little mice since they had put on the magic shoes, hopped up on the window sill of their room beside Johnny Jump Up, the garden fairy.

"Now climb down the rose-vine," commanded the jolly little fellow. So down they went in the moonlight, the three of them, and soon they came to the garden.

"This is my house—this is where I live," shouted Johnny Jump Up, running toward a large violet plant with big nodding purple violets.

And then suddenly the Twins noticed something very strange. The violet plant was in the shape of a house. Queer they had never noticed it before!

Suddenly a lot of tiny fairies that looked like Johnny Jump Up himself rushed out of the violet plants and began to tumble and jump about and do cartwheels and hand springs like tiny circus actors.

When they stopped tumbling, they crowded around the Twins. "Welcome to the magic garden," they cried. "Did you come to help scare the grub worms?"

"Certainly they didn't," declared Johnny Jump Up. "That's your job, you rascals. Now I'm going on a journey with my friends here, and before I come back I want you to have every rose-bug and earthworm and grub scared out of here. And if you see any strange fairies coming for roses or for dresses, be sure that they only take one apple. The moon's out so you won't need the lightning bugs to help you."

"All right," cried all the little garden fairies. "Goodby, boy and girl! We hope you have a nice time. Goodby."
